from the floor at the rear end instead of taking the top first, as they have been doing heretofore. This will make the work more rapid and without much danger of the walls.

The remains of the woman that was found at 9:30 o'clock have been identified as that of Lizzie Laager, a chambermaid at the hotel.

Four bodies were found last night and all have ben identified with the exception of one. Two were men and the other two were women. The first to be identified was that of A. M. Monroe, of Des Moines, Ia. This identification was made by the clerk by a ring which he wore. The second body was identified as that of Emma Muhlethaler, a chambermaid, by Mrs. A. T. Thayer of 925 Broadway. The identification was made by part of the clothing that still remained on the body and by a set of earrings which was worn by the unfortunate woman. Louise Reinhuber was also a chambermaid and was identified by the clerk of the hotel by a piece of the dress.

This leaves only one body that has not been identified. One is that of a small man with a light mustache, and does not answer the description of any one in the house. The other is the body that is supposed to be the remains of Peter Gumry, but the clerk states that no such jewelry as the cuff button described was worn by that gentleman.

MR. BLAKE'S BODY FOUND.

Denver, Colo., August 21.—The body of A. L. Blake of Pueblo was found at 11 o'clock this morning. It was in the extreme rear of the ruins and was in fairly good shape as compared with the other bodies taken out this morning. It was lying beneath the mattress of the bed which he occupied, and only burned about the hands. The remains were identified by the brother of the dead man before they were wholly uncovered. They were placed alongside of the bodies in the morgue that were found this morning.

MR. M'CLOSKEY'S FUNERAL.

Colorado Springs, Colo., August 21.—The remains of E. F. McCloskey, who was killed in the Gumry hotel disaster, were laid at rest in Evergreen cemetery this morning with the impressive ceremony of the G. A. R. At 10 o'clock the service was held in the United Presbyterian church, corner of Huerfano and Nevada streets, of which church the deceased was a member. The auditorium was crowded to its utmost extent. The coffin containing the remains stood in front of the altar and was almost hidden by flowers.

Rev. Presley Thompson, pastor of the church, conducted the services. Members of the Badito lodge, A. O. U. W., and of the Colorado Springs post, G. A. time of the disaster.

ONE MORE COLLAPSE.

Chicago, August 21.—The great Coliseum, on the south side, which was nearly completed and which was to have been opened on September 2, partly collapsed, just before midnight. There were very few workmen and watchmen around, and it is not thought any of these were fatally hurt. It will be some time, however, before this can be definitely determined.

A force of 200 men had been working on the building night and day, but as the accident happened during lunch hour when all the men were absent, nobody was hurt. The building is a total wreck and the loss will reach between $160,000 and $180,000. Had the accident happened an hour before or a few hours after the loss of life would have been frightful. About 10 o'clock 200 workmen went off duty and at 3 a. m. 300 more would have gone to work.

The collapse is believed to have resulted from the giving way of one of the front arches.

NO RESTRICTIONS ON TICKETS.

The Railroads are Engaging in Indiscriminate Competition.

Chicago, Ill., August 21.—Knights Templar rates to Boston are going from bad to worse. Restrictions of every kind were virtually removed from the tickets today by a number of the roads. The Wabash sold tickets at a guarantee that they would be good for return any day from now to the final expiration of the time limit. Under the original agreement the tickets were not to be good for return until August 27, and had to bear the signature of the original purchaser. Today the tickest were sold "good for bearer." This simply means that from now until the 25th the general business of the roads will be done at half rates, as the tickets are good for anybody and are as unrestricted as any round trip ticket could be. The holder is not compelled to go to Boston to have them executed, but may use them to and from any point on the way. Several roads are shading rates considerably below one fare. Brokers are loaded up with tickets and are being paid a big commission by the roads on their sales.

Each of the western roads had bound itself to furnish the chairman of the association with a list of the sales from all common points with the numbers and descriptions of all tickets sold. Under this arrangement it will be possible to tell whether any of the tickets
