Land, Sheridan Lake.

John G. Morgan & Co., brokers, at 1015 Seventeenth street, Denver, keep the Chieftain on file and Pueblo people can always see their home paper there.

A. J. Hunter will leave for Chicago in a few days to accept a position with the Western Mutual Life Insurance company, for which he has secured the Colorado agency, but will return in a few months.

Some sheds back of 512 west Fifth street, apparently fired by an incendiary, were burned at 8:30 o'clock last evening. The department responded to an alarm from box 32 and the loss was small.

The Entre Nous club gave its regular dance at the hall, corner of Sixth and Main streets, last evening. Several invited guests were present and a pleasant evening was spent in dancing and social intercourse.

Joshua Owengs Cohen, formerly of this city, died of consumption at Hannibal, Mo., on Thursday, January 17. His many friends in Pueblo will regret to learn of his death, of which the first news reached here yesterday.

Considerable improvements are being made in the interior of Joseph Dupps' bakery, 219 Main street, in the line of partitions and refurnishings, so that he will have the handsomest ice cream and lunch parlor in the city when finished.

Miss Edna M. Batten, daughter of J. H. Batten, of 1144 Cypress street, who has been visiting relatives in New Decatur, Ala., was married February 28 to R. M. Lipscomb, of Virginia, at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. F. Woodmanser.