square
ost esti-
g came

I'm confident we can deliver a good project for you. That's our goal."

/ from page 5A

e such
de avail-
place for

ballot
decerti-
to count
ots.
hey are
ed with-
tandards,

so we can still be confident that they will meet the standards," said Senate Majority Leader Ken Gordon, D-Denver, who carried the measure in the Senate. "The secretary of state's been working on this ever since December 17 hoping that we would pass this bill, so this bill allows him to continue."

/ from page 5A

y duties
public
wards of
pefully,
track,"

m both
ntucky,
Wayne
nd Ken
ve been
to the

't realize
(Mitch)
e to try
oversight
to keep
ons pro-

said.

House Democrats may come up with a different spending package for the military, but are unlikely to cut the weapons destruction funding, according to Rep. John Salazar, D-Colo.

"I am confident the House will maintain the $400 million for Pueblo and Blue Grass Depots included in the President's FY09 budget. I have worked hard in the House to ensure that the munitions at Pueblo are destroyed as safely as possible and as soon as possi-

542-4434

Margaret N. McCarey, 85, passed away Feb. 4, 2008. Funeral Mass, 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Christ the King Church. Interment, Mountain View Cemetery. Full notice to run on Wednesday.

Romero
Family
Funeral Home
110 Cleveland • 583-1313 • Pueblo
Alamosa • Monte Vista • Antonito • San Luis

Louis J. Vigil, 85, of Pueblo. Funeral service, 10 a.m. today, Romero Chapel. Interment, Roselawn Cemetery. Family and friends will be received at Romero Courtesy Hall following interment. Military honors by the Pueblo Veterans Ritual Team.

Dorothy I. Frazier, 75, of Pueblo. Arrangements pending.

Since 1922
MONTGOMER
& STEWARD
Funeral Directors Inc
1317 North Main • 542-1
Pueblo, Colorado 8100

Raymond D. Marsh
vice, 10 a.m. today
gomery & Steward

Roselaw
Funeral Hom
(719) 542-2934
Cemetery & Crema

Josephine Whittingt
Pueblo, passed awa
2008. Arrangemer
ing.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Rose fundraiser

A fundraiser for Republi-

Emergency Mana
Pueblo County She
fice and the State De
of Revenue in an eas
one-stop format.

Among the info
that is accessible:

- Voter status and