Summer of Science at the library

Pueblo, Colo. — Now crime solving isn't just for TV sleuths and the Pueblo Police Department. People can try their hand at forensic investigation at Pueblo City-County Library District's The Science of Mystery, a crime-lab exhibit on display through Aug. 28, at Rawlings Library, 100 E. Abriendo Ave., on the 4th floor during library hours. It is free and open to the public. The exhibit combines mystery and investigation in an exciting educational adventure. Visitors are invited to view a crime scene, review the scenario as presented by the investigators and suspects, and conduct 10 different science experiments in a crime lab to determine who committed the crime. Adults and children alike will enjoy exploring the scientific principles used to solve a crime. The exhibit is an original exhibition developed by Gateway to Science in Bismarck, N.D.

Other science-themed events at Rawlings Library include:

- Cool and Creative Chemistry I, 6 p.m. Monday, July 14, and 10 a.m. Tuesday, July 15, Rawlings, Ryals Room, 4th floor
