Award-winning Colombian independent-film

PUEBLO – The Colors of the Mountain, the InfoZone News Museum’s independent film choice for March, is a drama from Colombia that follows three Colombian boys as they try to recover a soccer ball from a Colombian minefield.

Young Manuel lives with his hard-working farmer parents in the remote, mountainous region of the Colombian countryside. While the adults in their lives try to avoid the armed military and the guerrilla rebels fighting each other in the area, Manuel and his friend Julian are obsessed with playing soccer. Shortly after his birthday, the new soccer ball Manuel received as a gift gets kicked off into a minefield. Manuel, Julian and their albino friend Poca Luz will do everything in their power to recover this prized belonging, an essential part of their everyday lives and dreams.

The Colors of the Mountain will be shown at 7 p.m. on Saturday, March 17.

Doors to the library open for movie attendees at 6:30 p.m., and the movie begins at 7 p.m. The Colors of the Mountain is filmed in Spanish with English subtitles.
