Each new library will be 7,500 square feet with a similar footprint, but will have minor cosmetic adjustments to reflect the history and culture of each community. Once complete, each library will house 25,000 items for checkout including, books, DVDs, audiobooks, eReaders, and laptops with the ability to request items from other libraries in the district and access all of PCCLD's online databases. Public access laptops and free WiFi will be available. Comfortable spaces throughout each library will accommodate a variety of needs: studying, collaboration and social interaction to name a few. Each library will have a large conference room for use regardless of whether or not the library is open.

Construction of all three libraries is slated to begin in fall of 2013, and be completed by September 2014.

Robust public libraries equal thriving communities

by Jon Walker

The citizens of Pueblo County hold their public libraries in high esteem. How do I know? People are voting with their feet. Last year, in 2012, about 1.1 million visitors used our local libraries.

So far in the first six months of the current year, we are 15 percent ahead of last year's record-setting pace.

We believe this is an indicator of good things to come for at least a few important reasons. First, as Thomas Jefferson advocated, an educated populace is vital to the success of our democracy. This bodes well for us as more people than ever before are availing themselves of the library's educational and cultural resources. Second, we know that a higher general level of education is a necessary prerequisite for vibrant economic growth and employment. As use of the public library increases, we improve the prospects for an improved quality of life for all of us. Third, people take pride in their public libraries. Libraries usually stand at the center of a neighborhood, signifying the importance the community places in the value of lifelong learning.

The increasing use of our libraries is great news for all of us. It is a testament that our community's future moving forward is bright. Our public libraries serve to connect the local learning setting with the global resources of information and knowledge and, in so doing, help make Pueblo a better place to live. As our libraries prosper, so does our community.

Monthly arts and craft festival a crowd pleaser

Mesa Junction Art Bash

1-5 p.m.
Rawlings Library courtyard
Sunday, Aug. 11
Sunday, Sept. 8
Sunday, Oct. 13

The first Mesa Junction Art Bash held in July at the Rawlings Library Courtyard was a smashing success. Musicians entertained hundreds of library customers while art vendors sold their creative wares. There were face painters on hand, martial arts demonstrations, Pass Key sausage sandwiches to be eaten and even horse carriage rides strolling up and down Abriendo Avenue.

The Creative Corridor and Pueblo City-County Library District will host three more monthly art fairs (every 2nd Sunday) through October. The next event is Aug. 11. Each bash features different artists, musicians, activities and crafts. Join the fun and see what the fuss is about! For more information, contact Susan Wolf at 553-0220.

Filmmakers: Get ready for the next Pueblo 24 Hour Film Festival

This year, the film requirements will be revealed at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 14 at the Rawlings Library. Filmmakers will receive instructions and required film elements. Everyone will then have 24 hours to shoot, edit and submit a film.

Registration for adults is $10 by Sept. 6 and $20 Sept. 7-14. There is no charge for teen registration. Films will be screened and judged at two screenings: Teens on Wednesday, Sept. 19 and adults on Friday, Sept. 20. Awards will be given immediately following the screenings.

For complete details, visit www.pueblolibrary.org/24hourfilmfestival or contact Susan Wolf at 553-0220 or susan.wolf@pueblolibrary.org

Wave your hands in the air, wave 'em like you just don't care! A swarm of children attended the Rawlings Library for a Summer Reading magic show extraordinaire performed by local magicians Kyle Groves (left) and Mr. E (center) while youth Services manager Janina Goodwin (right) joins the fray.

What do you get when you cross a toothbrush head, a button cell battery and a vibrating motor? A zany mobile robot called a BrushBot.

BrushBots were all the rage during a Rawlings Library summer event that encouraged children to embrace their inventive side and build miniature robots that scoot across flat surfaces.

What's better than wearing fake mustaches? Wearing fake mustaches while painting fake dinosaur eggs, of course! The Summer Reading craft program at the Rawlings Library provided a creative space for children to do just that.

Entertainer Beth Epley and her hand puppet companions known as "The Rock Brothers" took storytime to a whole new level during their Summer Reading performance in July at the Rawlings Library. Children got to dance, sing and learn about the origins of asteroids, lava and the general formation of rocks on the earth.

Grand Opening of Harry Potter's World: Renaissance Science Magic and Medicine

Exhibit on display from Aug. 3-Sept. 7
Grand Opening: Saturday, Aug. 3 at noon
Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

In 1997, British author J. K. Rowling introduced the world to Harry Potter and a literary phenomenon was born. Millions of readers have followed Harry to the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry where he discovers his heritage, encounters new plants and animals and perfects his magical abilities. Although a fantasy story, the magic in the Harry Potter books is partially based on Renaissance traditions that played an important role in the development of Western science, including alchemy, astrology and natural philosophy. Incorporating the work of several 15th and 16th century thinkers, this seven-part series examines important ethical topics such as: the desire for knowledge, the effects of prejudice and the responsibility that comes with power.

This exhibition, using materials from the National Library of Medicine, explores Harry Potter's world, its roots in Renaissance science and the ethical questions that affected not only the wizards of Harry Potter, but also the historical thinkers featured in the series. Refreshments will be provided. For more information, call 562-5626.

The Science of Harry Potter

Saturday, Aug. 17 at 10:30 a.m. & 12:30 p.m.
Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

According to a recent Daily Prophet news release, Hogwarts Wizards are coming to Pueblo! Join your fellow wizards-in-training as we learn the science behind Hogwarts' charms and potions. We'll learn how to make different liquids change color, make things disappear and reappear, and make troll boogers, quicksand and boo bubbles! Don't miss this opportunity to explore the science behind Harry's wizarding feats — it's sure to be a magical time. Reservations are required by visiting the library calendar or calling 562-5626.

Three key places to find the hidden job market

Monday, Aug. 12
7-8 p.m. at Lamb Library

Not tapping into the hidden job market may result in missing out on 60 to 80 percent of available jobs. That old adage "it's who you know" is even more important when looking for a job. Networking is one of the most important skills to have and it is essential for finding unadvertised jobs. Learn where to look for networking contacts in person, in the news, and on social media. Also learn how to develop oral and written pieces for networking.

Losing Ground: The Cliff Effect

Tuesday, Aug. 6 at 7 p.m.
Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

Join us for a screening and discussion of the new Rocky Mountain PBS documentary Losing Ground: The Cliff Effect. This film focuses on a state and county law that can put some families in economic jeopardy if they accept a raise or promotion at work. A raise or promotion can thwart a low-income family's rise toward financial self-sufficiency because work benefits such as child care can be lost with a raise as small as $1 an hour. After the screening, enjoy desserts and discussion about the program. The event is co-sponsored by the Women's Foundation of Colorado Pueblo Steering Committee.

When his uncle marries a girl from Thailand, Dennis decides to try his own luck on a trip to Pattaya, as it seems that love is easier to find in Thailand. He knows that his mother would never accept another woman in his life, so he lies and tells her that he is going to Germany. Dennis has never been out traveling before and the hectic Pattaya is a huge cultural shock for him. The intrusive Thai girls give big bruises to Dennis' naive picture of what love should be like, and he is about to lose hope when he unexpectedly meets the Thai woman Toi. Trustee Talk

Library expansion an exciting time, by Lyndell Gairaud

I am a newer member of the PCCLD Board of Trustees and am very excited to be a part of our city-county library system. My five-year term as a trustee began in January 2013.

Each month, the board of trustees has a work session and a board meeting which are open to the public and open to all library employees and volunteers. Some of these meetings are held at the Rawlings Library, others at the Pueblo West, Lamb and Barkman branches, and the Library at the Y. There is usually a monthly presentation by a department leader keeping the trustees and public up-to-date on new policies and services being offered throughout the system. I am impressed with the enthusiasm of all the presenters who are very knowledgeable about their fields and so very informative.

PCCLD is in the midst of an expansion of our services. Soon we will be breaking ground on new libraries planned for the East Side of Pueblo, the St. Charles Mesa and the Greenhorn Valley. This is an exciting time for everyone associated with the library and especially for new board members. This expansion speaks to the dedication of the PCCLD staff to offer services to all areas of our city and county.

My family moved to Pueblo in 1966. I received my first library card at the satellite library in the fire station on Bonforte Boulevard in Belmont. I have watched that satellite grow to the Barkman Library and now it has been updated with the recent enhancement program. When my son was small we lived on the South Side and were regular visitors to the Lamb Library. We have checked out and returned books at a temporary location downtown when the McClelland Library was morphing into the Rawlings Library. I attended the grand opening of the expanded Pueblo West Library. PCCLD keeps growing and serving our community in a greater capacity. Many thanks to the staff and administration of this organization for what has been achieved so far, and for a bright future.

Friends of the Library president's corner

by Mary Simmons Couch

The Friends of the Library rely heavily on all our dedicated volunteers. This month, I respectfully recognize a key volunteer, James Stuart. Jim's contributions to our library and our community are numerous and substantial; his involvement with the Friends of the Library is beyond comparison. Jim became an active volunteer for the Friends upon retirement, when Books Again bookstore was still on the drawing board. Jim designed and implemented the "business end" of the bookstore in 2005. Since opening day, he has single-handedly performed all the store accounting, advertising and financial reporting functions. In addition, Jim currently serves as bookstore manager. Thank you Jim!

Membership chairman, Carol King, reports that as of July 1, Friends of the Library membership totaled 809. The Friends board has set a goal of 1,000 members by May 1, 2014. Please join the Friends if you are not already a member. Memberships start as low as $15 annually! Membership entitles you to a discount every day at Books Again, as well as invitations to our "members only" special sales. Membership is a great way to support our library! Please see the membership application form on the last page of this newsletter.

In August, the Friends have our hardback book sale coming up Aug. 15, 16 and 17. Please stop by Books Again for a great deal on hardbacks by your favorite authors. Thursday, Aug. 15 is for members only! You can join that day before you shop!

Pueblo Mid-Century Modern: Inside and Out

Thursday, Aug. 8 at 7 p.m.
Rawlings Library, InfoZone Theater - 4th floor

Nostalgia has gripped the country! Memories of Ozzie and Harriett, Leave It To Beaver, Father Knows Best and The Donna Reed Show will flood back to you when Historic Pueblo, Inc. presents Pueblo Mid-Century Modern: Inside and Out.

Mid-Century Modern, characterized by the architecture, furniture and clothing of the time period around the 1950s, has seen a revival of great interest. Wade Broadhead, city preservation planner, and his wife, Hannah Haley, will take a whirlwind trip back in time to the 1950s. Broadhead will present the architectural aspect of Pueblo's Mid-Century Modern homes while Haley will refer to her blog Just Peachy, Darling, focusing on home interiors and fashion. The presentation will inform attendees about the seismic shifts going on inside and outside the home in the '50s and '60s, and how those shifts shaped the modern world. Suggested donations of $5 will be used by Historic Pueblo, Inc. to help purchase bronze plaques for properties that are designated a Pueblo Historic Landmark. Call 562-5626 for more information.

Book discussion group: The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks

Monday, Aug. 5 at 7 p.m.
Barkman Library

Henrietta Lacks

Her name was Henrietta Lacks, but scientists know her as HeLa. She was a poor black tobacco farmer whose cells—taken without her knowledge in 1951— became an important medical tool, vital for developing the polio vaccine, cloning, gene mapping, in vitro fertilization and more. Henrietta's cells have been bought and sold by the billions, yet she remains virtually unknown, and her family can't afford health insurance. Barkman Library will hold a group session discussing this fascinating book by Rebecca Skloot. For more information, call 562-5680.
