PRINTED THANKS TO THE GENEROUS SUPPORT OF FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

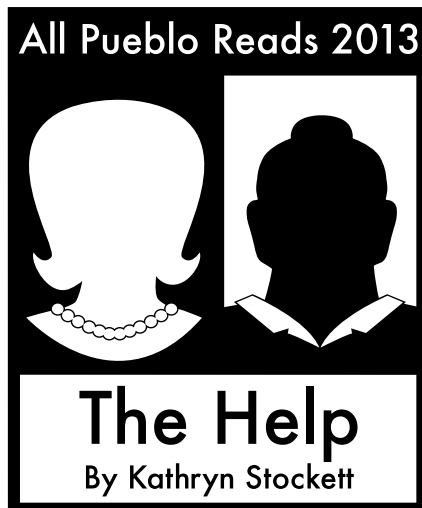

New online catalog coming Sept. 17

Pueblo City-County Library District will officially launch its new online catalog hosted by BiblioCommons on Tuesday, Sept. 17. The new catalog will be a major improvement over current offering. Created from ever-evolving search engine technology, this new catalog will provide better, more reliable search results, allow you to create lists and follow users with similar interests and share books and movies you've enjoyed with friends on Facebook as well as other social media websites.

The new catalog will require you to create a new account when you first try to place a hold or renew materials. Use your Library Card Number and PIN to log in, create a username and off you go! The new catalog has a new look, powerful searching and is easy to use. Try it today! pueblolibrary.bibliocommons.com. For more information, call 553-0221.

All Pueblo Reads kicks off Oct. 4

This year's All Pueblo Reads project features The Help, by Kathryn Stockett. Stockett and Tate Taylor, director of the motion picture, will both be in Pueblo. Many events and activities are planned from Oct. 4 to Nov. 10. All Pueblo Reads is a literary project designed to get everyone in Pueblo County reading and discussing one book at the same time each year. The goals of the project are to promote dialogue across social, cultural and generational lines. For complete information on the events and activities planned for this year's All Pueblo Reads project, go to www.pueblolibrary.org/allpuebloreads.

Extending the library in the community

by Jon Walker

The library district is extending itself more in the community. Early this year, we unveiled designs for three new libraries. Groundbreaking on construction for each of the three is scheduled to take place before the end of this summer.

The new East Side Library will be a source of information and a meeting place for the approximately 15,000 nearby residents. The Greenhorn Valley Library will serve those living in the southern-most area of the county. The St. Charles Mesa Library will provide for the nearly 10,000 people who live in this area.

This commitment on the part of the Pueblo City-County Library District to expand to these underserved areas is acting on our belief that these libraries will become one of the most important, if not the most important, public outposts in their respective parts of the county. The design of the new libraries will incorporate many ideas suggested by residents, such as more natural light, large community meeting rooms, areas for young visitors, public computer resources, and plenty of books and other library materials. Other features will include comfortable spaces of study and contemplation, a café area for light refreshments, and, of course, well-trained staff to assist customers.

We know people still crave good reading. Our new libraries will have great collections of books to check out. Large numbers of people continue to visit our current libraries to check out library materials. Over one million people visited our libraries and nearly two million items were checked out last year from the present public libraries, including Barkman, Lamb, the Library @ the Y, Pueblo West, and Rawlings. The demand for free access to information, both digital and paper, remains strong. Not surprisingly, once people get access to that information, they tend to want more.

Books and reading are a big part of the library's future, but not the only part. The new libraries also will provide spaces conducive for study, group meeting and simply places for people to gather to freely access information and exchange ideas. While "more books" is a common request from customers, the libraries both now and in the future will provide more than books, including everything from help with resumes and job searching to health information for lay people to helping kids find a comfortable place after school to study and learn.

Our libraries have continuously innovated in order to remain relevant and important. The Internet has made traditional encyclopedias, maps, and any number of once-essential paper documents less relevant by providing this content online. Importantly, public libraries have become central places for convenient and free Internet access. Our new libraries will provide WiFi access and plenty of public computers, including the latest in wireless digital devices. Part of our mission is to insure that free access to information is available for all members of our community, and in today's world this clearly extends to the Internet and newer wireless devices. So, the new libraries will have digital tablets and wireless computers for check out plus study rooms equipped with the latest in collaboration technologies.

This is an important time for libraries. This expansion is a significant step in ensuring a better quality of life for everyone. Construction of the new libraries is scheduled to be completed during the summer of 2014, about one year from now. For more information, see www.pueblolibrary.org/newlibraries.

Groundbreaking dates for two new libraries

St. Charles Mesa Library
Tuesday, Sept. 10 at 10 a.m.
Highway 50 E. and 24 1/2 Lane near fire station

East Side Library
Tuesday, Sept. 24 at 10 a.m.
Corner of 7th Street and Monument Ave.

Pueblo City-County Library District invites all to celebrate the groundbreaking for the new St. Charles Mesa and East Side libraries.

Each library will be 7,500 square feet with a similar footprint, but will have minor cosmetic adjustments to reflect the history and culture of each community. Comfortable spaces throughout each library will accommodate a variety of needs: studying, collaboration and social interaction to name a few.

Refreshments will be served. For more information, please contact Midori Clark at 562-5605 or midori.clark@pueblolibrary.org.

A group of children (left) enjoy watching the closing show of Pueblo City-County Library District's 2013 Summer Reading Program performed by the Rawling's Library Youth Services staff (right). The Youth Services performers go by the name YS Crew. Look for them to return again next year!

Library-goers were encouraged to participate in the art of graffiti during August's Mesa Junction Art Bash. Graffiti art can be fun when applied to the right surface. In this picture, a canvass provides the perfect setting in the Rawlings Library parking lot.

The InfoZone at the Rawlings Library hosted the Harry Potter Party in August. Isaih Longdo-Molina won a Harry Potter book set after completing the Harry Potter challenges.

Groundbreaking was underfoot on Aug. 21 in Colorado City for the soon-to-be-built Greenhorn Valley Library in Colorado City. Community leaders, library board members and architects alike were in attendance during a celebration that begins the process of building three new Pueblo County libraries.

Book conversation

Killing for Coal: America's Deadliest Labor War (NR)

Thursday, Sept. 5 at 7 p.m.

Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

Join Pueblo Archaeological and Historical Society and Pueblo City-County Library District for a presentation by Thomas G. Andrews. Andrews specializes in the social and environmental history of the Rocky Mountain West. Andrews will discuss his first book, Killing for Coal: America's Deadliest Labor War (Harvard University Press, 2008). The book constitutes the first full-fledged environmental history of labor struggle. Call 553-0205 for more information.

Guatemala: Portrait of a People

Photographs by Kellie Cason O'Connor
Open Sept. 1- 30

Reception, Sept. 12 from 5-7 p.m.

Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

Guatemala is a series of hope and perseverance. The military actions and ethnic hostilities the Mayans have survived still whisper in the hot, wet air of Guatemala, yet the people rise up and greet each day with hope and pride. While the landscapes in this body of work show the environment and the material conditions of life, the portraits reveal the legacy of tradition and possibilities for the future in the faces of children. Kellie Cason O'Connor is a fine arts film photographer based in Pueblo, Colo. O'Connor attended Massachusetts College of Art and Design studying photography under photographers such as Laura McPhee, Nicholas Nixon, Frank Gohlke and Abelardo Morell.

Book Signing with author Lucia Rivera Aragon

Thursday, September 12 from 6-8 p.m.

Rawlings Library

InfoZone Theater - 4th floor

Author Lucia Rivera Aragon will read excerpts of her book Lucia: An Oral History Spanning 1943-1996. Books will be for sale and a signing will follow the reading. Come early and enjoy the exhibit reception for Guatemala: Photographic Works by Kellie Cason O'Connor.

Mesa Junction Art Bash

Sundays, Sept. 8 & Oct. 13
1-5 p.m.

Rawlings Library Courtyard

The Creative Corridor and Pueblo City-County Library District will host two more monthly art fairs (every 2nd Sunday) through October. Each bash features different artists, musicians, activities and crafts. Join the fun and see what the fuss is about! For more information, contact Susan Wolf at 553-0220.

Women's Foundation of Colorado's Pueblo Community Conversation

Sept. 10 from 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Rawlings Library, Ryals Room - 4th floor

Did you know three in 10 Colorado women live below or near the poverty line? Or that Colorado women make 80 cents for every dollar men make? Or that girls are much less likely than boys to be ready for college-level math and science courses?

Participate in the conversation on the Women's Foundation of Colorado's recent research report, The Status of Women and Girls in Colorado. The report reveals promising advancements and troubling disparities in women's lives. These facts are now being presented to communities across the state in order to spur conversation about this information. To RSVP, please send your name and city to community@wfco.org.

Beginning Genealogy using Family Tree Maker

Wednesdays, Sept. 18-Oct. 17 from 1-3 p.m.

Rawlings Library

3rd floor training room

This is a beginning genealogy class that requires basic computer skills. The class size is limited to 10, registration is required. Please register online through the calendar or call 562-5626.

The Barkman, Lamb, Library @ the Y, Pueblo West and Rawlings libraries and all satellite locations will be closed on Monday, Sept. 2 for Labor Day.

Movies @ the InfoZone

Seating at the InfoZone is on a first-come, first-served basis. Snacks are not allowed in the theater, but covered drinks are permitted. The InfoZone Theater is located on the 4th floor of the Rawlings Library, 100 E. Abriendo Ave. All movies are free!

Constitution Day Celebration

Tuesday, Sept. 17 from 3:30-5 p.m.

A short film about the Constitution will be shown followed by a discussion. A small Constitutional display will be on hand, and books will be available to check out. Activity packets will be available to take home. For more information, call 562-5626.

Independent movie

The Dynamiter (NR)

Saturday, Sept. 21 at 7 p.m.

It's another summer in Glen Allan, Miss. for 14-year-old Robbie Hendrick. His wayward mother has run off again fearing a breakdown, and he's left to pass the days caring for his half-brother, Fess. But he's as hopeful as ever that his dream of a family will be realized this year. As Robbie and Fess burn the days together, Robbie's dream is closer than ever before. His older brother Lucas returns to the home and postcards begin to arrive from their mother, promising that she's better and will return home soon. But Robbie knows the futility of keeping faith in promises. As days and nights pass without his mother's return, and with the ever-present threat of social services closing in on the brothers, Robbie must face the fact that he may just lose the only family he's ever had: Fess. Filmed on location in the delta town of Glen Allan, Miss. with all non-actors from the region, The Dynamiter is a story of family in the forgotten America, uncompromisingly told by the very people who live it every day.

Community cinema

The Graduates (NR)

Monday, Sept. 30 at 5:30 p.m.

This two-part, bilingual documentary explores pressing issues in education today through the eyes of six Latino and Latina adolescents from across the United States, offering first-hand perspectives on the barriers they have to overcome in order to make their dreams come true.

Harry Potter's World: Renaissance Science Magic and Medicine

Exhibit on display through Sept. 7

Although a fantasy story, the magic in the Harry Potter books is partially based on Renaissance traditions that played an important role in the development of Western science, including alchemy, astrology and natural philosophy. Incorporating the work of several 15th and 16th century thinkers, this seven-part series examines important ethical topics such as the desire for knowledge, the effects of prejudice and the responsibility that comes with power.

This exhibition, using materials from the National Library of Medicine, explores Harry Potter's world, its roots in Renaissance science and the ethical questions that affected not only the wizards of Harry Potter, but also the historical thinkers featured in the series. For more information, call 562-5626.

Book discussion: I am Forbidden

Monday, Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. at Barkman Library

Anouk Markovits was raised a Hasidic Jew in France, but at 19 she fled her community to avoid an arranged marriage. She went on to get a master's degree in architecture and a Ph.D. in romance studies. I Am Forbidden, her first novel in English, centers on two Hasidic sisters: one who leaves, and one who stays, shunning modernity. Free and open to adults. Call 562-5680 for more information.

Chiloé region of Chile. There, in the company of a torture survivor, and mythical creatures of the Chilean Archipelago, Maya Vidal writes her story, which includes pursuit by a gang of assassins, the police, the FBI, and Interpol. There will be a discussion about the book and a showing of the POV documentary The Judge and the General. Free and open to adults. Call 562-5601 for more information.

The Judge and the General (NR)

Monday, Sept. 23

(following Book Connections)

Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

When in 1998 Chilean judge Juan Guzmán was assigned the first criminal cases against the country's ex-dictator, General Augusto Pinochet, no one expected much. Guzmán had supported Pinochet's 1973 coup against the democratically elected president, Salvador Allende, and had worked as a judge during Pinochet's dictatorship. The filmmakers trace Guzmán's descent into what he calls "the abyss," where he uncovers the past — including his own role in the tragedy. Open to adults.

Luis Campos — Talla de Madera: Woodcarving and Acrílico: Acrylic Painting. Campos is from Michoacan, Mexico and learned woodcarving by watching his grandfather at age nine.

Friends of the Library president's corner

by Mary Simmons Couch

The Friends of the Library rely heavily on all its dedicated volunteers. This month I respectfully recognize Dr. Mark Clark, an exceptional volunteer at Books Again bookstore. Mark moved to Pueblo in 2010 upon retirement from the University of Wisconsin at Eau Claire as the dean of professional studies.

Mark serves at Books Again as our manager every Tuesday without fail, coordinating volunteers, inventory and sales. In addition to his weekly contribution, Mark coordinates our all-important semiannual "Books by the Bag" sales. These three-day sales are major fundraisers for our mission to support our library; the next BBB is October 3-5. We appreciate Mark's leadership in managing these major events! Mark also leads our effort to network with local school administrations, so we can help classroom teachers. Thank you, Mark, for all your efforts on behalf of the Friends of the Library, our library and our community! We value your hard work and your friendship.

Carol King, chair of the Friends' membership committee, reports that memberships in our organization totaled 817 as of August 1, 2013. A Friends membership is a significant way you can support our library and shop at Books Again with additional discounts from our "75% off retail" prices. E-books are here, but there are still times when everyone needs a hard copy! Please shop Books Again when you are in our neighborhood!

Looking ahead, the Friends of the Library board will offer direct support to our library system in September. We will award scholarship(s) to library employee(s) who is/are currently pursuing the Master of Library Science degree.

Environmental film screening

Green Gold (NR)

Thursday, Sept. 12 at 5:30 p.m.

Rawlings Library, Ryals Room - 4th floor

The Environmental Education Media Project will host a screening of Green Gold, a film that documents large-scale ecosystem restoration projects in China, Jordan, Ethiopia, Rwanda, and Bolivia, highlighting the enormous benefits to people and the planet of undertaking these restoration efforts globally. It is the story of healing landscapes at scale, and, with it, restoring life, livelihoods, security and a future. This documentary is not just a tale of hope, it's evidence of hope — it's proof that we do not need to give in to apathy and despair. Instead, we see we have the simple solutions right in front of us.

Panel discussion to follow screening featuring Brian Fritz and Becky Elder from Transition Manitou and Pikes Peak Permaculture, and Beki Javernick Guion, 4th generation farmer from Javernick Family Farms / Family Roots Farm in Canon City. Call 553-0220 for more information.
