The Cloud: A better digital-book experience

Pueblo City-County Library District is launching a new, easy to use e-book and downloadable audiobooks lending service from global leader, 3M Library Systems on Monday, June 6. 3M Cloud Library is a free app that includes thousands of electronic titles for all ages through a library account. The new app will replace OverDrive. Those currently using OverDrive will have access to their items until July 14.

The Cloud provides e-books and e-audiobooks in many formats. 3M Cloud Library is compatible with Apple devices, Android tablets and phones, Kindle Fires, PCs and Macs. There are also features such as Cloud Link (which allows PCCLD customers to borrow e-books from other libraries).

The Cloud will have a new collection of titles specifically purchased for this transition as well as what customers request in the Wishlist feature. Roughly 90 percent of PCCLD's current OverDrive content will transfer over to the Cloud on July 16.

The set-up is simple—download the app, log in one time with a library card, and then read or listen to your favorite e-books and downloadable audiobooks anytime, anywhere. Check out up to 10 titles at one time, and keep them for up to 21 days, when the items will automatically expire from an account.

Questions? Ask library staff, call 562-5600 or visit www.pueblolibrary.org.

On your mark, get set . . . READ!

Summer Reading kicks off on Wednesday, June 1. Copies of the guide will be available in The Pueblo Chieftain or all Pueblo City-County library locations at the end of May. A variety of events for families, teens and adults will keep calendars full while school is out for summer.

New this year, babies, kids and teens will complete reading activities on a bingo board. For completing one row, all will receive a prize and coupon pack. When blackout (all squares) is achieved, entries are earned for grand prize packs. Kids also receive a reading medal.

Adults receive a $5 Books Again coupon (just for registering) and are asked to read five books (maximum of 15) to be entered into the grand prize drawing for a Fitbit (fitness tracker).

The Public Library Association

by Jon Walker

The Public Library Association, with about 9,000 members, is a division of the American Library Association, which is the oldest and largest library association in the world. PLA was founded in 1944 and exists to provide communication, advocacy, continuing education and programming for the advancement of public library service in the United States.

The Pueblo City-County Library District has long benefited from its participation in PLA. In early April of this year, thousands of library professionals gathered in Denver for the biennial PLA conference. PCCLD took full advantage of this nearby opportunity with a full complement of local librarians and trustees attending the conference. As a result, we gained from some of the best library professional development courses that you can imagine. The conference also brings librarians into close contact with numerous publishers, authors and current trends from across the country and around the world. One focus of the conference was the evolving role of libraries in the age of technology, perhaps led by the greater and greater demand for digital content like e-books and streaming music and video. But going digital isn't all about computers. Library makerspaces—with focus on learning by doing—was an important centerpiece for the conference, too.

Our aim is to provide the best possible public service for our community. Achievement of this goal is well-supported, in part, by our participation in the PLA Conference and other similar PCCLD staff training and development activities. This means PCCLD wins and our community profits, too, with librarians who are at the top of the game in this discipline.

Trustee talk

by Marlene Bregar

I'm always surprised when someone says, "I know you and your picture is on the wall at the library!" For one, I don't think it's a picture that looks much like me. Secondly, I really don't associate serving on the Board of Trustees of the Library with having a picture on the wall. It is so much more! I have been privileged to be a part of the Pueblo City-County Library District throughout exciting times of expansion and new programs. Sometimes the work is more mundane: the policy and financial business of the district. But there are special activities like the quarterly employee recognition and the many programs of interest the library offers that make being a Trustee meaningful and exciting.

April 5-9, 2016, the Public Library Association (PLA) held their biennial conference in Denver. As a board member, I was privileged, under our board professional development practices, to attend along with four other board members and over 30 library district staff. It was a wonderful opportunity to learn about and explore many topics relevant to the library in today's world. I met librarians and trustees from all over the United States and Canada. I also was able to meet representatives from some of the vendors our library uses to meet the needs of our patrons.

There were inspirational keynote speakers-it would be hard to pick a favorite-but I particularly enjoyed Anderson Cooper and Anand Giridharadas. I plan to read their books SOON!

I attended eight sessions on topics ranging from the library's role in providing support during natural disasters, the library's role in civic engagement and civic dialogue, to the changing landscape of library privacy. PLA had identified a number of sessions relevant to library trustees and the ones I attended were excellent! I did combine personal interest with a topic in our new strategic plan and attended a session on early literacy. I walked away from that session really appreciating what attending a conference is all about, children's librarians from Florida, North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee are so dedicated and inspirational! And they are so willing to share their knowledge, experience and enthusiasm!

And perhaps, best of all, every time I met someone representing PCCLD, I heard about the things they were learning: new ideas and new ways to do old ideas. Ahhh, the possibilities! Stay tuned!

Books in the Park needs your help buying books!

Every summer, Pueblo City-County Library District runs a program called Books in the Park, which brings library services to neighborhood parks for kids who might not otherwise be able to come to the library. We would like to have a shiny, new collection of books for this program this year! We are trying to buy 1,000 books for $5 each by June 1. If you'd like to buy some books, please send checks made out to Pueblo City-County Library District to Attn: Midori Clark, Community Relations, 100 E. Abriendo Ave., Pueblo, CO 81003. You can also get more information by calling 562-5605 or emailing midori.clark@pueblolibrary.org. Thank you!
