PRINTED THANKS TO THE GENEROUS SUPPORT OF FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

All Pueblo Reads is going on now

The 10th annual All Pueblo Reads literary project is underway with many events and activities planned from Oct. 4 to Nov. 10. This year's book is The Help, by Kathryn Stockett. Stockett and Tate Taylor, director of the motion picture, will both appear in Pueblo. This month-long project features a variety of events based on themes within The Help, which centers around life in Jackson, Miss. during the civil rights era of the 60s. The goals of the project are to promote dialogue across social, cultural and generational lines. For complete information on the events and activities planned for this year's All Pueblo Reads project, go to www.pueblolibrary.org/allpuebloreads.

Library implements live phone receptionists

Pueblo City-County Library District now has live receptionists to assist customers with accounts, materials and events. This provides customers with quicker, more personal service. Customers are encouraged to have their account number ready. The most common calls are inquiries about account information, item renewals and hold requests. Customers requiring more in-depth readers' advisory, reference skills or requests will speak with staff and then be transferred appropriately. Automated renewals and account information will continue to be available before and after hours. Call 562-5600 — the one number needed to answer all of your PCCLD questions!

All Pueblo Reads underway in October

by Jon Walker

It is October, and time for All Pueblo Reads. For the ninth straight year, the Pueblo City-County Library District is pleased to present this annual series of events to our community which focuses on the themes of a great book.

We are honored to offer The Help by Kathryn Stockett as this year's selection. It is our hope and belief that this book will resonate with the residents of Pueblo County.

The Help has been on best-seller lists for longer than any other hardcover fiction title since The Da Vinci Code. It was USA Today's 2009 Book of the Year and has been published in 37 countries around the world. The movie version of the book is a 2011 film based on the novel that was adapted for the screen and directed by Tate Taylor.

The story revolves around three extraordinary women whose determination to start a clandestine project forever changes a town, and the way women, mothers, daughters, caregivers and friends view one another. A modern classic, The Help has been a cultural touchstone for the millions of readers who have cheered on Skeeter, laughed with Minny and hissed at Hilly. The noble and strong Aibileen has become a heroine for countless fans. A deeply moving novel filled with poignancy, humor and hope, The Help is a timeless and universal story about the lines we abide by, and the ones we don't.

The Friends of the Library are supporting the project again this year with a generous gift, which has made it possible to bring Stockett to Pueblo for public programs, with our featured event being her appearance at the Rawlings Library on Sunday, Nov. 10. You will not want to miss the opportunity to meet this renowned author in person, hear her speak and have her sign your books. In addition, this year we also will host Tate Taylor, the movie's director, for the special program presentation on Nov. 10.

Please join me in reading this great book and participating in many of the nearly 100 events made possible by All Pueblo Reads.

Beyond a Dream: Exploring the Activism and Beliefs of Dr. King 50 Years Later

Thursday, Oct. 17 at 7 p.m.
Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

Join distinguished scholar, Dr. Bianca C. Williams, for insights into Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. as a radical activist. Williams is an assistant professor of Ethnic Studies at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Williams' research centers on theories of race and gender within African communities, particularly the emotional aspects of being black and a woman in the U.S. and Jamaica.

Life of the Help

Thursday, Oct. 17 at 7 p.m.
Lamb Library

Rosemount Museum's Deb Darrow will present a program on the lives of the individuals who served as the help for the Thatchers from the early 1880s through the 1960s. She will discuss their transition from the Thatcher's first home to the Rosemount mansion. Refreshments will be served.

Everybody Welcome: Fannie Mae Duncan

Thursday, Oct. 24 at 7 p.m.
Barkman Library

Local author Kay Esmiol will discuss her book and biography Everybody Welcome. It's the story on the life of Fannie Mae Duncan, an African American businesswoman in Colorado Springs. She opened her business the Cotton Club in the late 40s and early '50s, at a time segregation was practiced in Colorado. Her business featured the best jazz and blues musicians of that era and originally was built to serve the entertainment needs of the African American soldiers stationed in Colorado Springs. She eventually put a sign in her window that said "Everybody Welcome."

PechaKucha

Friday, Oct. 25 at 7 p.m.
Rawlings Library, InfoZone - 4th floor

PechaKucha is an effective and efficient way for artists and designers to present their work. The format allows presenters to display 20 slides for 20 seconds each — a presentation that lasts six minutes and 40 seconds. Presenters speak about various topics such as their travels, research projects, student projects, hobbies, collections or other interests. Meet creative people, promote yourself and most of all, have fun. For more information, call 553-0220.

Brother Outsider: The Life of Bayard Rustin (NR)

Monday, Oct. 7 at 6:30 p.m.

Brother Outsider illuminates the life and work of Bayard Rustin, who has been described as the unknown hero of the civil rights movement. A tireless crusader for justice, a disciple of Gandhi, a mentor to Martin Luther King, Jr., and the architect of the 1963 March on Washington, Rustin dared to live as an openly gay man during the fiercely homophobic 1940s, 1950s and 1960s.

Lucky (NR)

Saturday, Oct. 19 at 7 p.m.

South African film in Zulu, English, and Hindi with English subtitles

Drama

How could a recently orphaned, 10-year-old homeless South African boy ever be called Lucky? Over the grave of his dead mother, Lucky makes a promise to make something of himself. Leaving the security of his remote Zulu village for the big city with the hope of going to school, he arrives on the doorstep of an uncle who has no use for him. Lucky then falls in with Padma, an elderly Indian woman with an inherent fear of Africans, who takes him in as she would a stray dog. Together, unable to speak each other's language, they develop an unlikely bond. Through an odyssey marked by greed, violence, and, ultimately, belonging, Lucky shows how a child's spirit can bring out decency, humility and even love in adults struggling to survive in the new South Africa.

Trustee Talk

by Jim Stuart

Did you know that the Pueblo City-County Library District now has a foundation? Well, it does. The Pueblo Library Foundation was established almost two years ago. As a member of the PCCLD Board of Trustees, I was appointed to represent the trustees on the foundation board and am currently its president. The reason we started the foundation was mainly to raise money to establish, over time, a fund that would be in a position to give the library district financial aid if at some time in the future it ran into a serious downturn in property tax income. The second priority was to help when capital campaigns were needed for building projects. As you might well imagine, our second priority has moved into first place with the building of three new branch libraries.

Our fund raising goal for all three libraries was just shy of $1 million of the overall budget for building the libraries and equipping them of $6.6 million. I am very proud to announce that after just receiving a challenge/matching grant of $85,000 from the Gates Family Foundation we are only $130,463 short of our goal. Note the word "matching" in the last sentence. That is where you and I come in. We have gotten some great individual, organizational and foundation donations and now are turning to you, our library patrons and friends, to help us "match" that $85,000 because we don't want to lose a penny of this "challenge" grant. Please contact Amber Pepin of the PCCLD Staff (562-5635) to learn more or just send your donation to PCCLD at 100 E. Abriendo, Pueblo, CO 81004.

In closing, I would especially like to send a very BIG thank you to the staff and board members of PCCLD for their donation of almost $40,000 to this project and our wonderful Friends of the Library for their amazing donation of $60,000.

Friends of the Library president's corner

by Mary Simmons Couch

The Friends of the Library board relies heavily on our contingent of faithful volunteers. This month I wish to recognize one of our most active volunteers, Rhonda Skull.

Ronnie began volunteering at Books Again in June 2012 upon her retirement from banking. Ronnie has quickly become instrumental at the store! Luckily for us, Ronnie enjoys the bookstore so much that she volunteers every Wednesday as our Wednesday manager. In addition, Ronnie volunteers twice a month on Saturdays, to help us on our busiest day of each week. Ronnie loves the bookstore because she enjoys the camaraderie of the store volunteers, enjoys helping customers and she simply loves books. In addition to volunteering with us, Ronnie serves on the bookstore management committee, she helps her husband farm in Avondale and she enjoys several creative hobbies. Thanks Ronnie, for your service and your friendship!

Our membership chair, Carol King, reports that Friends of the Library memberships totaled 817 as of Sept. 1. Please remember that a membership is an important way you can support our library system! Members also shop at our Books Again bookstore every day at a discount!

The Friends of the Library board has exciting functions coming up in October! We will award grants to the library for specific projects requested by employees. These projects help library employees to continue to offer great customer service! In addition, we will judge the Scary Story Contest. We expect about 1000 Pueblo area students and adults to submit entries.

5 Easy Pieces: Biographies for the Job Search

Tuesday, Oct. 15 at 4 p.m.
Pueblo West Library

When you undertake a job search, you need to have several ways to market your skills. This workshop will cover the five most important marketing pieces that you need to prepare. You will learn how to structure and prepare the following:

- Resumes
- Cover letters (and introductory letters)
- Brief oral presentation
- Elevator speech (longer oral presentation)
- LinkedIn profile

The presentation by Katherine Johnson from Potential Energy careers, LLC will cover the importance of creating each of these attributes and how to create a framework for each piece. You will also learn why it is important to have each piece ready to go at all times.
