Have a Question? Ask the Library by Jon Walker

Library customers expect quick, accurate answers to their questions. There are a few different options for reaching the Pueblo City-County Library District to help answer your questions.

Of course, you can visit with staff in person or call by telephone any of the Library District's 13 locations. For a complete list of library locations, phone numbers and hours of operation, visit http://www.pueblolibrary.org/pld_usingthelibrary/hours.asp.

You also can reach the Library District via the website at www.pueblolibrary.org. On the website, you will find an assortment of helpful information. The website provides access to the library catalog, too, where you can search for books and other library materials and even conveniently reserve materials or check your personal library account.

On the library's website, you have access to a large number of premium online information and research resources

(http://www.pueblolibrary.org/pld_search/er_main_rm.asp) and there is an online "Suggestion Box" where you can write comments, make suggestions or ask questions. For the latter, go to http://www.pueblolibrary.org/pld_about/suggestions.asp and type in your question or comment. We will email you a response.

Yet another useful way to contact librarians 24X7 is online chat using AskColorado. This is a live, interactive service on the Internet where you ask questions by connecting live with a librarian who will help you research facts and information. Access this service at <http://www.askcolorado.org/>. AskColorado is available in English and Spanish. Some people even refer to AskColorado as a "human powered search engine."

With several ways to "talk" with library staff, asking the library your question has never been easier.

Jon Walker is Pueblo City-County Library District's Executive Director and may be reached at (719) 562-5633 or at jon.walker@pueblolibrary.org.

Torn From Home: My Life as a Refugee national exhibition

Friday, June 5 to Sunday, Aug. 30
Rawlings Public Library
100 E. Abriendo Ave., 4th floor

The InfoZone News Museum is proud to announce the opening of a national exhibit developed by Lied Discovery Children's Museum in Las Vegas. This inspiring, hands-on journey shows visitors the extraordinary lives of refugees who are forced to flee their homes and seek safety in a new land. There are 10 million refugee children in the world, and even refugees living in Pueblo. This nationally renowned travelling exhibit will only visit 13 U.S. cities this year, Pueblo is the third stop on the tour. Visitors of all ages can explore what it means to be a refugee and better understand the hardships and hope for a brighter future.

Several community events will be planned around this exhibition, so look for event updates all summer long. This learning experience is free and open to the public. For more information or to schedule group tours, call 553-0205.

Get in the Act READ!

The library invites adults to put a little fun into their summer reading by participating in a drawing for a bag full of goodies that will be awarded to one lucky reader from Barkman, Lamb, Pueblo West and Rawlings libraries. Drawings will be held on Monday, Aug. 17.

The adult summer reading treats include:

- Gift certificate to Books Again book store
- Library pens
- Pueblo City-County Library District paperback book cover
- Pueblo: A Pictorial History by Joanne Dodds
- plus many more items

Forms will be available at all library locations starting June 1.

Ruža left Belgrade more than 25 years ago to seek a new life in Zurich. Now in her fifties, she has completely detached herself from the past. She owns a cafeteria and maintains an orderly, joyless existence. Mila, a waitress there, is a good-humored Croatian woman who also emigrated decades ago, but, unlike Ruža, she dreams of returning to a house on the Croatian coast. Both of them receive a jolt when Ana, a young, itinerant woman who has fled Sarajevo, breezes into the cafeteria looking for work. Ruža hires her but is annoyed by Ana's impulsive and spirited efforts to inject life into the cafeteria.

The film is free, and public seating is on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information about the Independent Films, call 562-5604 or send an e-mail to InfoZone@pueblolibrary.org.

Thursday night movies

Visit the InfoZone Theater on the 4th floor of the Rawlings Library to watch one of these films each Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in June. The films are free, and public seating is on a first-come, first-served basis.

No movie will be shown on Thursday, June 4 because of a VIP event.

“Hot Topics” discussion group

Expelled: No Intelligence Allowed (PG)

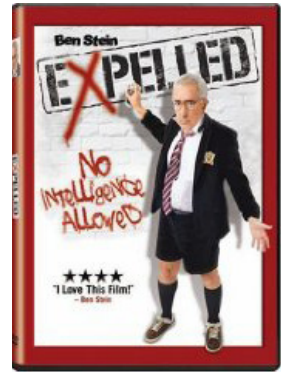

Monday, June 8 at 7 p.m.

Rawlings Public Library

100 E. Abriendo Ave.

InfoZone Theatre - 4th floor

Big science has expelled smart new ideas from the classroom. What they forgot is that every generation has its rebel! That rebel, Ben Stein (Ferris Bueller's Day Off) travels the world on his quest, and learns an awe-inspiring truth ... that educators and scientists are being ridiculed, denied tenure and even fired – for the crime of merely believing that there might be evidence of design in nature, and that perhaps life is not just the result of accidental, random chance. A discussion will follow the movie. This event is free and open to the public. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis.

Zen and Now by Mark Richardson

Monday, June 4 at 7 p.m.

Barkman Library

1300 Jerry Murphy Rd.

Zen and Now is a vivid chronicle of a journalist's heartfelt and determined journey to reconnect with a beloved American classic.

In 1968, Robert Pirsig and his eleven-year-old son, Chris, made the cross-country motorcycle trip that would become the inspiration for Pirsig's book Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance, a powerful blend of personal narrative and philosophical investigation that has

Book to a Movie Club

Revolutionary Road (R) Wednesday, June 17 at 6:30 p.m.

Rawlings Public Library

100 E. Abriendo Ave.

InfoZone Theatre - 4th floor

Join us for a movie based on a book. The selection for May is Revolutionary Road. Frank and April Wheeler (DiCaprio and Winslet) always thought of themselves as special, but they settled in a conventional Connecticut suburb and had children.

Hungry for a less constricted life, April persuades Frank to move to Paris--but slowly their plans unravel and their marriage unravels along with it. While Revolutionary Road may be a bit too glib about suburban emptiness--the lives Frank and April lead don't seem so stifled-

--the portrait of a mismatched marriage is vivid and devastating.

This event is free and open to the public. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis. Snacks are not allowed in the theatre, but covered drinks are. For more information, please call 553-0205.

Summertime Tune-ups

Do you own a boat, motorcycle, lawnmower, tiller, ATV, jet ski or other personal watercraft? Now that the weather is warmer it's time to get out and start using them.

Small Engine Repair Reference Center includes text as well as original photos and illustrations that guide you through every job and is available anywhere you have access to the Internet. The database often contains more than 25 years of an engine model, and offers assistance in providing routine maintenance, such as tune-ups and brake service, as well as extensive repairs involving engine and transmission disassembly. It even has information on snowmobiles and snow blowers for when the snow comes back again.

To access the Small Engine Repair Reference Center and our other do-it-yourself resources, go to www.PuebloLibrary.org, click on "Online Resources," click on "Do-It-Yourself," and then click on Small Engine Repair Reference Center. If using this resource from outside of the library, you will need to enter your library card number when prompted.

Teen Movie Night

Bride Wars* (PG)
Tuesday, June 23 at 7 p.m.
Rawlings Public Library
100 E. Abriendo Ave.
InfoZone - 4th floor

How important is the perfect wedding? Emma (Anne Hathaway) and Liv (Kate Hudson) have been best friends since childhood and each has always dreamed of an extravagant wedding at the Plaza Hotel. When both friends get engaged in the same week, they rush to the exclusive wedding planner Marion St. Claire (Candice Bergen) to book the perfect weddings at the Plaza Hotel. The reservations get mixed up, and both weddings end up scheduled on the same day and, since there are no other suitable openings available at the Plaza, the friends find themselves in the impossible situation of having to decide who will sacrifice her long-held dream and change venues. It turns out that neither woman is willing to give up her plans for a perfect wedding and the friends turn against one another in a hilarious battle that results in everything from blue hair to rumors of pregnancy and embarrassing home videos accompanying one bride's walk down the aisle. This event is free and open to the public. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis. Snacks are not allowed in the theatre, but covered drinks are. For more information, call 562-5603.

Friends of the Library get ready for the Side Door Sale at Book Again in May.

Customers and volunteers find some goodies at the Side Door Sale at Books Again book store.

Roy Milter checks out a good book while volunteering at Books Again.

Congratulations are in order for the Friends of the Library! The Side Door Sale they held in May was a smashing success, with nearly $7,000 in sales for three days. Friends members got to check out the selection on the first day and the sale was opened to the general public on the second and third days. The sale was at Books Again, the Friends used book store. Way to go!

The Books-by-the-Bag sale held at Books Again the first weekend in May was a huge success! The two day sale, plus the one Thursday preview day for Friends members, netted us a combined sales total just shy of $7,000 for bag sales and sales in the store. One of the great things about these "bag" sales is that our in-store sales always go way up during the sale. It was our biggest sale of its type by far. The preview day for the Friends did three times the sales of the sale last fall. Did you see the great banner we had on Union Ave. featuring the sale? Melanie Tappen, our intrepid store manager, arranged it and the banners at the libraries, which I am sure helped produce our record numbers. Figuring a rough average of 10 books per bag we must have sold over 8,000 books total. Thanks so much to all of the volunteers who worked so tirelessly to make the sale a success and all of our wonderful faithful customers and Friends members who took advantage of these great prices. Our volunteers put in a record number of hours, 762 in the month of April, getting everything prepared. Okay now, read all those books you bought quickly because we need you back in the store soon.

By the way, we have a great new web site, booksagain-pueblo.com. Please check it out. Don Pfof did a terrific job getting it set up and designed for us, and it includes lots of information about the store, when our sales are held and any specials we are featuring. Thanks, Don for the great job.

Super Technology Comes to Books Again!

by Edna Shoaf

Since I was not raised with so much technology, I still get excited over what others might consider quite mundane. So, pardon me for wanting to shout it from the housetops - Books Again has a new WEB PAGE!! And it really is a doozy! Just wait until you open www.booksagain-pueblo.com and see what we have for you. (I am using the generic we because I only work at the store; I had nothing to do with making the web page.) That credit belongs to our good friend Don Pfof. You have met Lois Pfof before in one of my columns. Don is her good friend and husband.

I spoke with Don the other day because I was curious as to how and why he worked so hard and so long to create such a lovely tool for us. He said that he first became interested in Webs when he would post information for Southern Colorado Runners to their Web. Subsequently, he took a course at PCC to learn more. He learned to use Dream Weaver, which creates Webs without the creator knowing lots of technical information. (Please don't ask me what Dream Weaver is - I am using lots of terms here that mean absolutely diddly squat to me.)

Later, Don took a second class at PCC and also one at CSU-Pueblo. He learned the theory of Web design, and in his class he had to create a personal Web and also one for a client. Lucky us, we became his client! He talked with Melanie to acquire the basic content, and also Bea and Mary Jones, volunteers at the store, who know tons of stuff about computers and the Web. So the menu on the page will assist the user in finding all kinds of really good info about Books Again and also about Friends of the Library.

Don also told me that during his second classes he learned the technical language, called HTML, which is used to create content. Cascading style sheets define appearances, such as background color, headers, etc. The logo will be familiar to you because it has not changed. He used Photo Shop to create the logo on the Web page and to process photos that are used. He also made sure that links between pages work.

Creating the page for Books Again helped Don complete his course assignment, but his instructor, Justin Bregar, has been of great assistance even after the course was completed. Don created a domain that is personal to the store, so anything that is posted on there comes from Don and not from anyone else.

I also found out that you must purchase the name in order to go on the Web. The name of Books Again was already taken by some one in Tennessee, so he just added the dash and Pueblo. You also pay for server space. (Mercy me, I do hope I am getting all this correct because Don obviously knew what he was talking about and I obviously do not.) Don said that he will be making revisions and updates as he goes along.

So. Do you want to know the address or phone number or when the next sale is on? Go to the Web! Perhaps you are in one of the pictures taken during the sale? Go to the Web! Would you like a form to join the Friends? Go to the Web! Do you want to know what projects we have funded? Go to the Web!

Wow! I am really impressed and hope you will be, also. Many thanks, Don. You have done a beautiful job. Excuse me while I go admire our new Web page.
