Rawlings Public Library is going wireless!

The Pueblo City-County Library District is pleased to announce that free wireless Internet access is now available at the Robert Hoag Rawlings Public Library.

This project has been underway for some time, and is just one way the Information Technology department is working to improve services for you.

Just like using the Internet computers at the library, there are some guidelines you'll need to follow.

You are responsible for configuring laptops for wireless Internet use. Library staff cannot provide technical assistance regarding wireless configurations or connections.

A filtering software will be used to limit access to inappropriate web sites. The district filters Internet activity in accordance with our Internet Policy and the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA). It is important to note that although the library attempts to filter all inappropriate material, some unsuitable sites may still be accessed. It is also likely that sites which are considered appropriate for all will be blocked by the filter.

In these situations, please request a "Citizen's Request for Change to Internet Access" form to request the web site in question to be blocked or unblocked.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you have adequate security and anti-virus protection on your laptop. The Pueblo City-County Library District will not be responsible for damages to your wireless device.

Frequently Asked Questions

I have Linux on my laptop. Will this work?

Yes, Linux will work with our wireless network as long as the wireless network adapter is 802.11 b/g compliant.

Is the wireless network secure?

No. Our wireless network is unencrypted; this allows for open access to the public. You are responsible for protecting your laptop from Internet security threats such as computer viruses, spyware, hackers, spam, online fraud, and identity theft. Some recommendations are to install anti-virus software protection and a personal firewall. Another suggestion is to disable file/print sharing to protect against intrusion and data theft.

My signal strength is weak; how can I improve it?

If your wireless adapter is configured correctly, the best way to improve signal strength is to position your wireless device to the closest access point. Access points are wireless transmitters that send signals in order for wireless devices to access the network. A wireless user can access the wireless network from just about anywhere within the Rawlings building, but the closer you are to an access point, the better your signal strength will be.

Please visit :
www.pueblolibrary.org/wireless for more information or ask a staff member for a diagram of the best access points within the library.

We're Number One!

By Jon Walker

Recently, we learned that our Library's summer reading program was rated number one in the state of Colorado.

The recognition comes from our peer librarians. An award ceremony is scheduled to take place at the annual gathering of librarians at the Colorado Association of Libraries Conference in Denver in mid-November.

We are proud of this honor. It represents acknowledgement for the supreme effort and teamwork exhibited by Library employees from throughout the District who work with children and teens.

The goal of our summer reading program is simple. We want to keep kids reading all summer long.

To this end, we challenged ourselves this year to increase the number of young people who enroll in the summer reading program.

To accomplish this, we wanted to create a higher profile in the community for our reading program.

We did this by developing a fun and colorful reading game board, by personally visiting every school in the county to talk about our reading program and pumping up interest among young people, and by publicizing our summer reading program heavily in the newspaper and on TV and radio.

We took library books where kids gather at city parks and sponsored fun reading-oriented programs in our libraries to attract more kids and families to our buildings.

We offered kids a "Free Ride to Read," whereby young people rode city buses free to the public library.

We procured corporate sponsorships to allow us to afford to give special recognition medals to young people who completed the program and cool prizes such as techie Ipods and fun new bicycles.

In the end, the new initiatives paid off. Our numbers went way up—56% more kids enrolled in our program. We went far toward our goal of keeping kids reading all summer long. We are number one!

Library Book Discussion Groups

Blink: The Power of Thinking Without Thinking
by Malcolm Gladwell
November 7
Barkman Library
7 p.m.

How do we make decisions - good and bad - and why are some people so much better at it than others?

That is the question Malcolm Gladwell asks and answers in the follow-up to his huge bestseller, The Tipping Point.

Drawing on cutting-edge neuroscience and psychology, he shows how the difference between good decision-making and bad has nothing to do with how much information we can process quickly, but on the few particular details on which we focus.

Leaping boldly from example to example, displaying all of the brilliance that made The Tipping Point a classic, Gladwell reveals how we can become better decision makers - in our homes, our offices, and in everyday life.

The result is a book that is surprising and transforming. Never again will you think about thinking the same way.

InfoZone Movie Night

Independent Film:

Let the Church Say Amen

Directed by David Peterson

American Documentary

Saturday, November 19

7:00 p.m. - InfoZone Theater

Rawlings Public Library

100 E. Abriendo Avenue, 4th floor

Fifty years since the Brown vs. Board of Education decision to improve the lives of people of color in American society, the rewards have yet to reach many residents of Washington, D.C. where that very court decision was made. Blocks away from the Capitol and White House stands a tiny storefront church, endeavoring to combat the street violence, unemployment, and homelessness that threatens American families living in poverty. Over the course of a year, this feature-length documentary by Academy Award nominated director David Peterson follows four church members as they work to fulfill their dreams of a better life.

The Independent Film Series offerings are not rated and are not recommended for those younger than 17 without parental permission. All movies shown in the InfoZone are free to the public. There are 100 seats available on a first-come, first serve basis. For more information about the Independent Film Series or to join our e-mail movie reminder list, call (719)562-5604 or email us at infozone@pueblolibrary.org.

InfoZone Gears Up to Explore Transportation

Hurry to the InfoZone News Museum on the 4th floor of the Rawlings Public Library to view wonderful films that showcase the people and landmarks that make Pueblo a unique place to live.

The Celebrate Pueblo! films will be shown continually through early December when our new film series, All Roads Lead to Pueblo, debuts.

The new films and accompanying photographic display will explore the history and future of transportation in the Pueblo area. Other InfoZone films showcasing the region's water supply, Pueblo sports and Pueblo industry can be checked out at Rawlings Public Library.

For more information, call (719) 562-5604.

The InfoZone Wants You

Help Wanted

Fun, socially significant work. Thriving museum, with a special role in the Pueblo community, seeks dynamic individuals interested in history, newspapers, and working with the public. Seeking those with three hours per week to give back to community! No experience necessary. For more information call Penelope Hyland at 562-5656 or Tracey Mattoon at 553-0205. Equal opportunity employer.

The Firebird

The Damon Runyon Theater and the Pueblo City-County Library District present a one-of-a-kind performance of The Firebird, a fairytale from Russia.

This extraordinary show is performed by The David Simpich Marionettes at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 12 at the Runyon Theater, 611 N. Main Street.

Tickets are $5 and for more information, please call (719) 564-0579.

Community Satellite News

By Barbara Brown

Did you know that seven of our community satellite libraries get five new adult titles every month? Any patron can use their Pueblo City-County Library District card and go out to any of the locations and pick one up!

We suggest you check our hours at each satellite library location (listed on our website www.pueblolibrary.org or in this newsletter) and call first (the books will be put aside so no one else gets them before you come out).

Avondale, Beulah, Hyde Park at the Cesar Chavez Academy, North Mesa, Rye

Elementary, South Mesa, and Vineland Elementary are the sites that are involved with this program. These books (plus about 300 more adult titles) are available:

Sweetwater Creek
by Anne Rivers Siddons

Point Blank
by Catherine Coulter

Angels in the Gloom
by Anne Perry

Perfect Nightmare
by John Saul

One Sunday Morning
by Amy Ephron

Prison Angel
by Mary Jordan

Bright Forever
by Lee Martin

Sullivan's Justice
by Nancy Taylor Rosen

In addition, books from the four main branches can be picked up or returned at any of these community satellite library locations.

Barbara Brown is the Satellite Coordinator and can be reached at (719) 562-5631.

Storytime Isn't Just for Little Kids

By Dillon Martinez, Barkman patron

It's for people of all ages. Sometimes you just want to sit down with a good book. At other times, it's great for someone else to read and let the words wash over you.

At the Barkman Branch there is a time for older kids to enjoy listening to a new chapter book. Paula Prych and Carol Rooney are excellent storytellers who always seem to choose the perfect book to read.

Currently we are reading Warriors, Into the Wild, the first of a fascinating series about Rusty, a pampered house cat, who is haunted by dreams of the wild.

He escapes into the woods surrounding his house and meets Blue Star, leader of the Thunder Clan. Blue Star invites Rusty to join her wild warrior clan of cats.

Before Rusty knows it, he has a new clan name and is thrown into a huge battle with another rival clan.

It's an interesting story, and I can't wait to find out how it ends. We have just completed a mid-book craft, creating cats out of acorn squash. That was fun, but I'm looking forward to reading the book again.

So you see, reading isn't just for little kids, it's for people of all ages, and it might give you ideas for new craft projects.

For more info about Barkman events, call (719) 562-5680.

InfoZone's Newsie more talkative than ever!

He welcomes visitors to the InfoZone News Museum with a shout of the day's newspaper headlines. Hoagie is a favorite with kids and adults alike and now he's got even more to say for himself!

The InfoZone has expanded Hoagie's repertoire. When visitors enter the InfoZone and stop to see Hoagie he gives them a lesson or two about his business - the business of "hawking" the newspaper in days gone by, with details of his fellow newsies and what they spent their hard-earned money on.

Along side Hoagie are pictures of his fellow Pueblo Chieftain and Star-Journal news carriers.

When you're visiting the InfoZone News Museum, don't forget to pick up your very own copy of the Newsboy Booklet that highlights experiences and wisdom of the news carriers dating back to 1926. It's full of wonderful stories that carriers who delivered the Chieftain and Star-Journal newspapers or sold them on Pueblo's street corner. The booklet is available for only $1.00 at the InfoZone gift shop.

Friends of the Library President's Corner By Jane Milne

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are small matters compared to what lies within us."

Emerson

By now we hope you have renewed your Friends annual membership. Your membership entitles you to a 10% discount at "Books Again," our new used book store.

The annual book sale was held on Friday, October 21st and Saturday, October 22nd. We appreciate your continued support.

We received 2,140 entries for our annual Scary Story Contest and awarded 44 winners. They received a $15 gift certificate from Barnes & Noble and a fun black (stuffed) cat.

See Jane - See Jane Run By Edna Shoaf

Remember the Dick and Jane readers from first grade? And Baby Sally? And a dog named Spot? (How apropos - Spot - for a spotted dog!)

Those were such lovely and delightful books with which to learn to read - and to memorize if you happened to get stuck on any one particular word. But I bet you never met a Jane that even walked or crawled, let alone Ran! Until now, that is.

Meet versatile and genial Jane Milne, and, man, does that gal run! Just follow her around for a day or two and you won't even have time to change your dirty socks!

From being the President of the Friends of the Library, to volunteering at the Chamber of Commerce, to dancing at the Eagles or a Blue Grass Festival, to bicycling across Europe, this lady lets no grass grow under her feet!

Jane moved to Denver from Chicago by train in 1959 with her dental hygiene degree and no job, but she had high hopes for new adventures.

She met her future spouse,

Del, while she was living in a boarding house and walking to work or riding the city bus. The landlady at the boarding house set them down in her parlor and told them how ladies and gentleman behaved while under HER roof, by golly!

Jane loved to travel. She bicycled across England with a girlfriend while she belonged to the Colorado Mountain Club. Subsequently, she and faithful sidekick, Del, have biked, hiked, rafted, sailed, and ridden ferries and boats and planes in France, Poland, Russia, Costa Rica, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and other places of interest.

They visited the prison at Auschwitz, rode the inside ferry system to Alaska and saw the Juno ice field by plane. "Tooling around those ice floes was just wonderful." They went sailing in San Carlos and traveled by boat from Moscow to St. Petersburg. Whew! Talk about not having time to change your socks!

Jane is currently serving her second three-year stint on the Friends of the Library Board "...because it is such a worthwhile group."

When asked how she came to join, Jane said that she had known Chuck Bates, a previous director of the library, and he suggested that she would enjoy the Board. She asked to be on the Board and "...those who ask make the best members because they really want to be there."

It is quite a stretch from dental hygiene to the Friends of the Library, but Jane had worked for World Book in between those positions. She called on District 60 and assisted in presenting incentive programs, so she was hooked on the importance of reading.

Says Jane, "The Board has many worthwhile and different projects. I will continue to be active, including helping at the used book store, Books Again."

Jane leaves the Board this coming April, and I am sure she will continue to have a busy schedule. RUN, JANE, RUN!!

Friends News

At the October Friends of the Library board meeting, a $2,974.99 check was presented to the Friends of the Library by the Books Again Bookstore Committee.

The Pueblo City-County Library District sends a big “thank you” to the Friends and the Books Again Bookstore volunteers for working together to benefit the library and the community.
