Three new libraries open

The Lucero Library on Pueblo's East Side, the Giodone Library on the St. Charles Mesa and the Greenhorn Valley Library in Colorado City all celebrated their first-year anniversaries. Each of the three libraries met or exceeded usage expectations during their first full year of operation in 2015.

Information technology upgrades

Audio-visual and other components of the InfoZone Theater at the Rawlings Library were upgraded, significantly increasing the capacity to digitize local documents of historical significance.

Behind the Scenes

PCCLD staff underwent an organization-wide accountability training in 2013-15 based on the bestselling book, The Oz Principle: Getting Results Through Individual and Organizational Accountability. The in-depth training intended to transform the organization's culture into one focused on executing to achieve key results—and it worked. All-time records were set for the four goals, or key results, that were an outcome of the training. See above for the record-setting numbers!

In Technical Services, where all of the library's materials are selected, procured and prepared for adding to PCCLD's collection, a Lean Process consultant was hired to help improve processing time and work flows. Multiple ways to make the department and processes more efficient. The work in Technical Services also included focus on the use of more sophisticated data tools to improve the selection of new library materials and culling older items in order to better ensure ideal collections best-suited to meet the needs and wants of the community.

Initial analysis work was done in 2012 with the Singer Group, a human resources and organization development consulting firm, to restructure positions and salaries to bring them in line with market wages. Job descriptions were reviewed and updated, SMART goals were set and a systematic supervisor training was held. Staffing and service levels were analyzed and resulted in the redeployment of several district employees, especially in support of the newly opened libraries and the refreshed facilitated customer service model.

Signature programs

Children enjoy Heroes, Magic and Books, a magic show presentation by the "incredible" Mr. E and Kyle Groves during Summer Reading at Rawlings Library.

SUMMER READING CLUB

PCCLD's award-winning Summer Reading Program continued to break records! More than 41,000 young people participated in Every Hero Has a Story, a 7 percent increase over 2014.

READ OUT LOUD!

The sixth annual Read OUT LOUD! celebration took place in April. This year focused on Punk Farm by Jarrett Krosoczka, and featured a Pueblo visit by the author. 1,325 kids came to see the author at several events hosted at the library, and an additional 1,486 students read the book in their classrooms. This program is endowed by the Friends of the Library.

In April, students from Pueblo City Schools and District 70 participated in the Read OUT LOUD! program held at Rawlings Library. The students learned about story writing and illustrating from author/illustrator Jarrett J. Krosoczka (pictured top right).

Four hundred people gathered on Sunday, Nov. 8 at Rawlings Library for Science Explodes at the Library featuring Tory Belleci of MythBusters. Tory's stories of his time on the television program, along with video clips of explosions he participated in entertained the crowd. The event also recognized 61 winners of the Create Your Own Sci-Fi or Spooky Character contest, which had 1,245 entries.

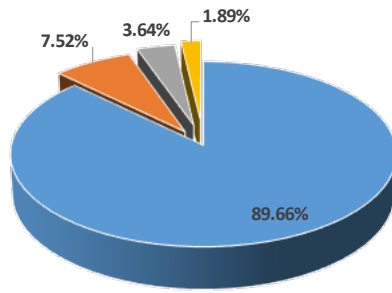

Tory Belleci laughs as he talks to the crowd on Sunday, Nov. 8.

ALL PUEBLO READS 2015

All Pueblo Reads concluded its tenth year. The 2015 project featured four Sci-Fi books: Divergent, The Giver, Ender's Game and The Hunger Games and an appearance by Tory Belleci of MythBusters. Participation totaled 39,513, with 16 partnering organizations and 197 events taking place.

Note 1: Revenues and Expenditures are reported for each of the governmental fund types. Fund-based financial data is focused on reporting current financial resources. These are resources that are generally available for and spent on current year activities. The Library District maintains a General Fund for operational revenues and expenditures and a Capital Projects Fund for facilities improvements and expansion.

Note 2: The Statement of Net Assets reports current and long-term financial resources of the Library District as a whole, representing the Library District's Balance Sheet for primary government activities. Net assets invested in capital assets represent the net book value of facilities, furniture, equipment, computers, vehicles, software, books and audiovisual materials. Restricted net assets represent emergency reserve requirements. Unrestricted net assets represent cash and other net assets available for operational expenses and capital improvements. Amounts reported are net of applicable debt.

Note 3: GASB Statement No. 68 has been implemented effective Jan. 1, 2015. As of Dec. 31, 2015 the library's proportionate share of Net Pension Liability was $5,592,492. This amount is included in unrestricted net assets.

10-YEAR HISTORY GENERAL FUND REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES

Financial information in this report is derived from the Library District's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). The Library District prepares its financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). However, GAAP requires certain financial presentation and disclosures that are not included in this report. Conforming reports are presented in the CAFR and include a greater amount of financial detail, individual fund statements, and budget data.

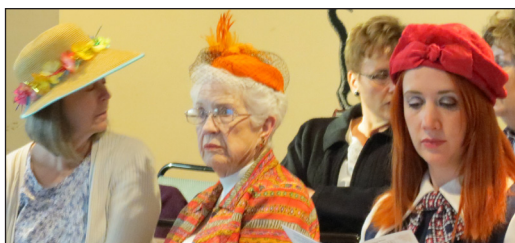

Complete general purpose financial statements, as well as the Independent Auditor's Report, are included in the Library District's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report can be obtained by contacting the Pueblo City-County Library District Finance Department at 719-562-5652, or visiting the web site at www.pueblolibrary.org.

Winners and runners-up of the Pueblo Girl Essay Contest celebrated in style with a high tea party at Rawlings Library in February. A record 237 entries were submitted for the contest this year.

A knit/crochet/needlework group calling themselves the "Yarnies" take advantage of the Idea Factory in the Rawlings Library on the 2nd floor in March.

Ladies wait for the performance Women of Pueblo, Ladies of Many Hats, Part 2 to start. The event, held at Rawlings Library in March was put on by the Southeastern Colorado Heritage Museum.

Read Dog, Read! pups all dressed up.

Volunteers from all departments and libraries in the district were treated to a luncheon in June to thank them for their service.

New strategic plan

In late 2014, Pueblo City-County Library District began a rigorous investigation into its future. From focus groups to district-wide surveys, the library actively sought input from the public, library staff and library stakeholders as to current and future priorities for PCCLD. Without the community's support, the library would find itself hard-pressed to continue providing quality resources, spaces and services in a fast-changing, dynamic world.

From this process emerged six themes which will become the library's strategic focus for the future.

- Create young readers.
- Strengthen community partnerships.
- Bridge the digital divide.
- Data-driven planning.
- Serve the whole family at all stages of life.
- Lifelong learning begins with staff.

The library will work within these areas with the full understanding of its mission to encourage the joy of reading, support lifelong learning and present access to information from around the world.

Friends of the Library

The purpose of the Friends of the Pueblo City-County Library District is to help the library system make educational, informational, cultural and recreational services available to the public. The Friends have existed for 56 years, and have given more than $919,000 to the library during that time. Accomplishments for 2015-16 are listed below.

Activities

EDUCATIONAL & RECREATIONAL

- Presented 718 Most Improved Reader Certificates to elementary school students.
- Judged over 1,174 entries in the Scary Story Contest. The winners received a booklet of the winning stories and a gift certificate.
- Presented Books Again gift certificates to the poetry authors at the Library's Poetry Contest awards ceremony. There were 1,179 entries.
- Sponsored the Friends of the Library Youth Creative Writing Contest.
- Provided gift certificates for the winners of the Create your Own Dr. Seuss Character Contest; 3,104 figments of students' imaginations were received. This was a record high year.
- Helped sponsor the annual Pueblo Girls Essay Contest for third, fourth and fifth grade girls. This year prizes were awarded at each grade level.
- Donated $6,500 to the Pueblo City-County Library District's Summer Reading program.
- Donated $5,000 to the youth reading program.
- Donated $11,500 to the Library District for the All Pueblo Reads program.

Volunteers who donate their time to the Books Again Book Store located behind the Rawlings Library were recognized in February at the annual Friends of the Library Volunteer luncheon. The bookstore celebrated 10 years in 2015.

INFORMATIONAL & CULTURAL

- The Project Selection Committee of the Friends awarded funds that totaled $31,073 to fulfill 12 grant requests from library employees.
- Provided $3,000 towards the printing and postage of News & Events. The newsletter is an important communications tool for informing the community of library programs, new services and Friends' activities. The newsletter reached over 12,000 people and organizations last year.
- Selected Doreen Martinez as their honoree for the 33rd Pueblo Women's History Week celebration.
- Awarded $4,000 in scholarships to three library district employees seeking a Masters of Library Science.
- Donated $10,000 to the Pueblo Library Foundation.
- Held the annual meeting.

FUNDRAISING & VOLUNTEERING

To make these contributions possible, the Friends raise funds through memberships and the sale of books at Books Again.

- As of April 30, 2016, memberships total 1,103.
- Books Again had gross sales in 2015 of $112,090 and 55.3 percent of net sales after taxes went to benefit the library district.
- During 2015, Books Again volunteers donated more than 8,304 hours to operate the store.
- Since Books Again opened in July of 2005, over $540,000 in profits have been provided to the Friends of the Library to fund projects at the Pueblo City-County Library District.
