3 LIBRARY JOURNAL FOUR STAR LIBRARY

PCCLD AWARDED FOUR STAR LIBRARY STATUS

PCCLD was recognized in the results of the 10th annual Library Journal Index of Public Library Service as a Four Star Library. The LJ Index, as it is known, rates U.S. public libraries based on key measures and is among the most prestigious recognitions nationally for public libraries. The 2017 LJ Index derives from data released by the Institute of Museum and Library Services. In the U.S., 7,349 public libraries qualified to be rated in the LJ Index of Public Library Service, only 260 are rated as Star Libraries. This places PCCLD in the top 3.5 percent of all libraries nationally. America's Star Libraries offers an overall indication of how a library's performance stacks up to peer libraries, taking into account such measures as computer usage, circulation, program attendance and library visits.

SIGNATURE PROGRAMS

ALL PUEBLO READS

The 12th Annual All Pueblo Reads was the second largest APR project on record. This year's project featured Station Eleven by Emily St. John Mandel. PCCLD received a $9,000 National Endowment for the Arts Big Read grant. This is the third time PCCLD had been awarded an NEA Big Read grant. The companion book for young readers was I Survived Hurricane Katrina by Lauren Tarshis. Sixteen community partners helped plan and host 135 events and activities. Programming themes included the significance of the arts in life, survival, apocalypse, disease/health and the works and life of William Shakespeare among others. To expand last year's efforts to increase reading among young readers, more than 3,350 free copies of I Survived Hurricane Katrina were given to local students and the popularity of this book and series boosted All Pueblo Reads checkouts to its highest number ever. The Booklovers Blacktie Ball was also the second most successful yet, with 224 in attendance and $33,425 in funds raised. Total participation for All Pueblo Reads was 40,203.

SUMMER READING CLUB

PCCLD's award-winning Summer Reading Program had a total of 30,707 people participating. Designed to keep everyone reading during the summer, the program was held June through August and featured the theme Build A Better World! Summer activities kicked-off in June with an outdoor concert, face painting and a magic show. The program wrapped in August with a summer-ending parade and festival.

READ OUT LOUD!

Amada Irma Pérez, author of The Diary From Here to There, visited Pueblo schools for the 8th Annual Read Out Loud! program. Students from Pueblo City Schools and District 70 read The Diary From Here to There in 77 classrooms, totalling 2,315 students participating.

Over the course of the two day event, 1,412 students and teachers attended one of six sessions at Rawlings Library and Avondale Elementary, to hear the author speak April 19-20.

A new element this year was the addition of an in-class workshop, led by PCCLD staff, on journal making and journal writing — 20 classes took advantage of this option, reaching a total of 652 students.

4 GENERAL FUND

Youngsters are entertained during the Mr. E Magic show.

REVENUE & EXPENDITURES

NOTE 1: Revenues and Expenditures are reported for each of the governmental fund types. Fund-based financial data is focused on reporting current financial resources. These are resources that are generally available for and spent on current year activities. The Library District maintains a General Fund for operational revenues and expenditures and a Capital Projects Fund for facilities, improvements and expansion.

NOTE 2: The Statement of Net Assets reports current and long-term financial resources of the Library District as a whole, representing the Library District's Balance Sheet for primary government activities. Net assets invested in capital assets represent the net book value of facilities, furniture, equipment, computers, vehicles, software, books and audiovisual materials. Restricted net assets represent emergency reserve requirements. Unrestricted net assets represent cash and other net assets available for operational expenses and capital improvements. Amounts reported are net of applicable debt.

NOTE 3: GASB Statement No. 68 has been implemented effective Jan. 1, 2016. As of Dec. 31, 2017 the library's proportionate share of Net Pension Liability was $8,353,580. This amount is included in unrestricted net assets. Financial information in this report is derived from the Library District's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). The Library District prepares its financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). However, GAAP requires certain financial presentation and disclosures that are not included in this report. Conforming reports are presented in the CAFR and include a greater amount of financial detail, individual fund statements, and budget data.

Complete general purpose financial statements, as well as the Independent Auditor's Report, are included in the Library District's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report can be obtained by contacting the Pueblo City-County Library District Finance Department at (719) 562-5652, or visiting the web site at www.pueblolibrary.org.

HOW THE LIBRARY IS FUNDED

6 2017 HIGHLIGHTS

MYSTICAL ARTS OF TIBET

The Loseling Monks (as seen on House of Cards) visited PCCLD July 19-23 for the Summer Reading Program. The monks created an impermanent sand mandala at Rawlings Library and held lectures on enlightenment, kindness and the symbolism of the Mandala during their time here.

The Loseling Monks at the opening ceremony.

CAREER ONLINE HIGH SCHOOL

PCCLD received a grant in the amount of $32,850 in LSTA funds to participate in the Colorado Career Online High School program beginning in September. This program made 30 scholarships available locally to qualifying applicants to earn high school diplomas via an online nationally accredited program for non-traditional students who are over the age of 19 years. This project is being offered in partnership with the Colorado Department of Education and Gale-Cengage.

PUEBLO COMMUNITY COLLEGE

PCCLD launched a cooperative program with Pueblo Community College's library on January 25. This program works similarly to the Library @ the U, which commenced late last year at the Colorado State University-Pueblo library. Students, faculty and staff at PCC can access PCCLD services and collections via the PCC library.

The Pueblo Community College mascot enjoys some light reading in the PCCLD satellite at PCC.
