With the same jolly, rollicking choruses and the same clever comedy acting of the principals which for several years have delighted theater-going audiences all over the country "The Burgomaster" appeared at the Grand opera house last evening and delighted another large house. This is one of the first of the musical comedies and one of the really permanent ones which every theater-goer likes to see every time it comes to town.

New and attractive parts have been added for the attraction this year and these are on a par with the good old songs of the play. This is a large company and the singing of the large chorus is especially fine.

As the feature members of the cast Harry Hermsen and Ruth White in the parts of Peter Stuyvesant and Willie Van Astorbilt are exceptionally clever actors and the frequent applause showered upon them by the audience last night was evidence that these actors are favorites.

There are indeed many musical comedies on the stage today and some good ones too, but Pueblo theater-goers attending the play last night are almost unanimous in declaring that one of the best, if not the premier, is "The Burgomaster."

The various costumes, new and attractive, worn by pretty girls, singing catchy songs, together with the clever comedy acting of the Burgomaster and the happenings lived over again in New Amsterdam of years long since gone by—these are the features which make this musical comedy an exceptionally good one and which has made it a delight for so many years.

"SUNNY JIM" PROVES HE KNOWS THE GAME

Mansfield, O., Oct. 8.—A vigorous two weeks' political campaign through the middle west during which he visited sixty-two towns and traveled over 3,000 miles, was brought to a close here tonight by James S. Sherman, Republican vice presidential nominee, in a rousing rally.

At Marion a large number of railroad employes came from the shops to listen to a five-minute talk on free trade. At the close somebody in the crowd asked the candidate to shake hands, but another voice shouted, "you'll get your hands dirty, Sunny Jim." It took the speaker but a second to climb down among the grimy workmen and grasp their hands, dirt and all, saying: "By George it does not make any difference how much dirt you boys have got on your hands as long as your hearts are all right."

This sentiment brought forth a rousing cheer and a "hurrah for prosperity and Sunny Jim."
