NO MORE SUNDAY MAIL IN DENVER

Special to the Chieftain.

Denver, Feb. 19.—Postmaster Sours of this city announced that this would be the last Sunday that the postoffice would be open for the delivery of mail. Orders were received from Washington yesterday to keep the office closed on Sunday from now on.

These orders come as a result of a Sunday closing postoffice movement that is on throughout the United States that is intended to give the carriers Sunday without work. Only those maintaining boxes will be able to get their mail on Sunday from now on.

FLORENCE PIONEER DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Special to the Chieftain.

Florence, Feb. 19.—Samuel H. Andrews, aged 84, died at his home in this city this morning after suffering for several months with Bright's disease. The deceased came to Colorado with his family 23 years ago and settled on a ranch at the foot of Mosca pass in Huerfano county.

Mr. Andrews disposed of his property seven years ago and since made his home in Florence. He is survived by a wife and six children, among whom are H. S. Andrews, secretary of the Business Men's association, and Mrs. Julia McCandless.
