PIONEER STATIONER CALLED BY DEATH

After being in a serious condition for ten days with pneumonia Otis Atterberry, one of the best known of Pueblo's business men, passed away at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at the family residence, 527 west Evans avenue. He had been in a critical condition for several days, although he showed signs of rallying early in the week.

Deceased came to Pueblo in 1892 from Lawton, Mo., and for two years was employed in the Holmes hardware store. When he left this place he engaged in the news and stationery business on south Union avenue, where he remained until a few months ago, when he moved his store to the Central block. He had a wide acquaintance in the city and was liked for his honesty and business integrity.

Deceased was a member of Valley camp, Woodmen of the World, and is survived by his wife and four children, three sons and a daughter. He was 49 years of age. No funeral arrangements have yet been made, awaiting the arrival of relatives from the east, except that the services will be held under the auspices of the Woodmen.
