George J. Hickman, one of the old time citizens of Pueblo, who died as the result of a bicycle accident, was laid to rest in Riverview cemetery, the funeral services taking place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon from the family home, 910 east River street. Rev. D. G. Montfort, pastor of the Fountain Presbyterian church conducted the services, which were largely attended by many friends, among whom were a large number of former employes of the deceased, who was for years a foreman at the Pueblo smelter and later at the Philadelphia smelter. The floral tributes were especially beautiful. Pall bearers were Thomas Hughes, Charles Payne, John Spearman, J. Poplin, E. H. Whitman and Robert Stiffins. The flower bearers were W. Webster and Frank Peyton.
