Switchman Killed at Steelworks

William Craig, a switchman, employed by the C. & W. R. R., was run over and killed by his own switch engine in the yards of the steel plant yesterday morning.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from his late residence and services will be conducted by the Rev. Charles W. Huett, pastor of the Northern avenue M. E. church.

Craig lived at No. 2609 Pine street and was highly regarded. He leaves a widow and two children. He was riding on the running board of the engine at the time of the accident. Those that saw it were horrified to see him suddenly pitch forward and fall beneath the wheels. There was a sickening crunching sound, a spurt of blood and Craig's body was literally cut in two. It is believed that he was seized with an attack of vertigo and becoming dizzy fell to his frightful death. Mrs. Craig is prostrated over the horrible fate of her husband and is under the care of physicians.
