Portland after a visit with her sister, Mrs. H. Wallace.

Mrs. E. E. Douglass and daughter, Helena, with their houseguest, Miss Hastings of Arlington, Iowa, returned yesterday from Cuchara camp, La Veta, where they have spent the past month. Mrs. Douglass returns with a large number of new canvasses, including one large picture of the Culebra range at sunset, a canvas of rare beauty. It is said one excelled with merit and technique. Miss Hastings returns to Arlington, where she will resume her position as teacher of physics and chemistry.

L. G. Reynolds, commercial freight agent for the R. & G. road, was in Pueblo yesterday.

Our bid for your business. QUALITY COAL, delivered in blue wagons. The Forbush Fuel and Ice company.

Funeral Notices

The remains of Alfred N. Crowell, who died several days ago in St. Joseph, Mo., will be brought to Pueblo for interment. McMahan & Collier received word yesterday that they would arrive next Friday. The funeral announcement will be made later when all arrangements are completed.

Record Shipment of Cantaloupes

Saturday and Monday just passed were the heaviest two days this season for the Rocky Ford melon shippers. More than 104 cars of melons were billed from the melon center in the two days.

This number of cars will be greatly exceeded before the present season is over. The above number is from the Rocky Ford station of the Santa Fe alone. Other points along the Santa Fe are doing a proportionately large business in shipping. Manzanola and Fowler are also holding their own and