eration of the tariff bill.

The question whether the organization should be affiliated with the American Mining congress or should be kept apart and be known as the Western Ore Producers' association was left to the executive committee for decision.

OLD SETTLER OF LA JUNTA CALLED

Special to The Chieftain.

La Junta, March 23.—Matt Daniher, one of the old settlers of La Junta, died at 4 o'clock this morning from appendicitis. He came here in 1880 and engaged in the coal business and has been engaged in that business ever since. He has occupied the positions of city alderman and county commissioner, and occupied both of these positions at the time of his death. He was around at his work as usual on Friday and that evening was taken sick, rallied somewhat Saturday, but grew worse Saturday evening. He was removed to the hospital, but died before an operation could be performed.

Mr. Daniher leaves a wife and one son, Edward Daniher, who has been associated with his father in his business. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mr. Daniher was born in Ireland and at the time of his death was about 61 years of age. He was a member of the Catholic church of this city and of the local Elks lodge, also of the Woodmen of the World and several other fraternal orders. The flag at the city hall has been at half mast today, out of respect to the dead alderman. He was a candidate for re-election as alderman on the Business Men's ticket.
