COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

"We'll see about that," said Lannon.

Burton then continued. "Some of the members of the commission-elect approached me," he said, "last Sunday afternoon and invited me to join them in a meeting at the Elks' club. I did not see Mr. Duke in the party and got into communication with him and told him to be present. At that time, I say, Carrie Truman was selected for clerk. The very next day, I am informed, a secret meeting, at which Mr. Duke and myself were not present, was held in an office off the rotunda of the Central block, and there a new slate was framed. Such action was contrary to the provisions of the charter. Then it was planned, I understand, to oust Denny McDermott as chief of police and place Jim Byrnes on the job."

"Mr. Burton is misinformed when he says that I was there, for I was not," declared Prevost.

"Neither was I there," said President Donnelly, "and what is more Jim Byrnes is not to be chief of police and no change is anticipated."

"Just the same Donnelly came to me last Saturday and asked my assistance in ousting McDermott," replied Burton.

Byrnes took occasion to say that he had not applied for the job and did not expect it.

DR. KING GETS IN.

At that juncture Dr. A. T. King of the civil service board made the remark that the commission should not get too hasty and that the chief of police business could not be gotten away with until after it had gone through the hands of the civil service board.

"We are making no attempt to usurp the power of the civil service commission," remarked President Donnelly.

"It will do you no good if you do," responded Dr. King.

Mr. Jackson was then declared elected clerk, after which Miss Young and Mrs. Truman were named as assistants in the city hall.

Mr. Burton announced his appointment of J. W. Carpenter as assistant comptroller and the appointment was confirmed.

Chairman Campbell of the civil service commission then presented the clerk the appointments of that board. It was Joseph Loor as city comptroller and R. A. Crossman as judge of the municipal court. The appointments were confirmed.

Immediately after the appointment of Mr. Loor he tendered his resignation as county treasurer to become effective when he is checked out of that office. In order to save the county the expense of a double audit, costing, according to Mr. Loor, in the neighborhood of $500, he proposes to hold his place as city treasurer in name only until January 1. From now until then he will devote all of his time to perfecting a new set of books for the business of the city, but will receive no salary from the city for his work. On Jan 1 he can be checked out as county treasurer and his successor checked in with but a single audit of the books. The naming of his successor is up to the board of county commissioners and has not been announced.

The following is the official resignation presented to the board by Mr. Loor:

Pueblo, Nov. 20, 1911.

"Honorable Board of County Commissioners, Pueblo County, Colorado.

"Gentlemen: I hereby tender my resignation as county treasurer of Pueblo county, Colorado, to take effect when my office is checked up.

"I entertain many pleasant recollections of our business relations, and sincerely hope that our personal friendship may continue for all time.

"Very sincerely,

"JOSEPH H. LOOR,
"County Treasurer Pueblo County, Colorado."

"I am making this suggestion in order that both the city and county may save a considerable sum of money," said Mr. Loor this afternoon, for it will save the city the salary of comptroller for two months and save the county $75 for another audit by so doing. I expect to start an entirely new system of handling the city money and will assure you that no bills will get through the comptroller's office with-

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT WHILE OUT HUNTING

Raymond Thatcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thatcher, 1402 Grand avenue, was accidentally shot in the calf of the left leg while hunting on the Thatcher ranch, 10 miles north of Boone yesterday afternoon. The shot gun which belonged to Robert Zeiger, was being placed in the auto preparatory to returning home after the hunt when the gun fell to the ground and was exploded. The charge struck Mr. Thatcher in the leg inflicting a painful flesh wound.

Dr. King was summoned and went to the ranch where he dressed the wound and Mr. Thatcher was brought to his home in Pueblo this morning. While quite painful the wound is not considered serious and unless complications set in Mr. Thatcher will soon be able to be out.

Gold Dust Brightens the Home

Nothing is so attractive as a cleanly home; nothing contributes so much to cleanliness as Gold Dust. No matter what it touches—china, pots and pans, floors, woodwork, clothes, etc.—it cleans thoroughly, leaves everything spotlessly clean, bright and attractive.

Don't use up all your time and strength trying to keep things clean; use Gold Dust everywhere you can—in all your household cleaning—and let it do the work. It works so quickly and thoroughly that really it makes cleaning a pleasure instead of a task. It makes home "sweet" home.

COMMERCE CLUB STARTS CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

The membership committee of the Commerce club, which is conducting a three-day campaign for the purpose of securing 50 new members to the club, met at the club rooms at noon today and discussed their campaign. The committee, which is composed of 25 members of the club, was divided into four sub-committees, each under the direction of a chairman. The four chairmen are J. M. Oaks, G. H. Nuckolls, A. G. Watson and W. D. Keen.

Early this afternoon the four committees got busy and they will not cease their work until Thursday morning. It is desired to secure 50 new members in order to continue the work of the club along the broad lines which have been the policy since the organization of the club a little over a year ago. To do this it is absolutely necessary to keep the membership up to the figure which the club held when the work was planned.

ELECTRIC CHAIR CLAIMS THREE MURDERERS

Triple Execution in Sing Sing Prison Accomplished in 23 Minutes.

OSSINING, N. Y., Nov. 20—Three murderers were put to death by electricity in Sing Sing prison at dawn today. They were Pietro Faletto, of Port Chester; Frank Schermerhorn, of Millbrook, near Poughkeepsie, and Bert L. Brown, of Rye. They went to the chair in that order. The executions began at 5:28, and lasted only twenty-three minutes.

It was the first triple electrocution at Sing Sing since the electric current superseded the gallows in New York state. Twenty years ago, four murderers paid the death penalty at one time by hanging.

Of the crimes expiated today, Schermerhorn's attracted the most notice. On the night of January 13, 1910, Sarah Brimer, a nurse employed by Barnes Compton at Millbrook, was found dead in the Compton home under circumstances which indicated that she had been assaulted and strangled. Schermerhorn, the family coachman, 22 years of age and married, was arrested on suspicion, and subsequently convicted on circumstantial evidence.

Bert L. Brown, a negro, killed William Brown, his half brother, in the village of Rye, May 21, 1910.

Pietro Faletto cut Louise Levine's throat in Levine's store in Port Chester, August 13, 1909. The victim was 89 years old. The trial developed that Faletto went to Levine's store for the purpose of robbery.
