DIED THIS MORNING.

Mrs. Saverio Deltondo, the Italian woman who was burned by an explosion of coal oil late Wednesday afternoon, died as a result of her injuries early this morning at the Pueblo hospital. Mrs. Deltondo was injured while building a fire at her home in "Mexico." She left the coal oil can standing on the stove and the bottom was melted off so that when she started to remove it the oil rushed out on the stove and an explosion followed. Mrs. Deltondo leaves a husband and three young children.

HAVE GOOD ORE.

The third carload of that handsome ore from the Elizabeth Mining company's property at Silver Cliff was sampled this week at the Philadelphia smelter, and gave returns of about $50 a ton. The Elizabeth is a well known and fortunate Pueblo company including Messrs. Baxter, Forrester

LEAGUERS ROBBED.

VICTIMS OF A LOT OF THIEVES ON THE ROAD.

Colorado Springs, July 11.—Since daylight this morning the police of this city and Manitou have been notified of losses by pickpockets aggregating nearly $1,500. There have been no less than 18 or 20 cases reported. It is believed that an organized gang of pickpockets is traveling with the Epworth leaguers and that unless the offenders can be apprehended the trouble will continue as long as the crowds are en route. In nearly all cases nothing but money is retained by the robbers, purses and railroad tickets being left promiscuously about the streets. No arrests have been made here as yet.

RUSSIAN CROPS DRIED UP.

London, July 12.—"There is no longer the slightest hope," says a dispatch to the Daily News from Odessa, of saving even a majority of the crops in the Volga governments of Amara, Saratoff and Kassan, as well as many districts of the neighboring governments. Over the whole region there has been a protracted drouth, with tropical heat, the temperature varying for seven weeks from 130 to 150 degrees Fahrenheit. Nearly all the streams had dried up at the beginning of June.

The crops in southern Russia average about the usual yield.

BIG HOTEL SCHEMES.

London, July 12.—George Boldt, of the Waldorf Astoria hotel, backed by the Astors to the extent of £1,000,000, is looking for a site for a hotel in London, says the Daily Express, and Press Whittaker of the Netherlands has
