RELIEF WORK EXPENSE PAID

D. & R. G. Subscribes Entire Amount---Jury Holds Session---No Bodies Found.

All who so generously subscribed to the relief fund for the recovery of the bodies missing since the Eden wreck will have the full amount of the subscriptions returned to them. This is made possible by the action of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad company as outlined in the following letter, to which George Meston, president of the Business Men's association has replied.

To The Pueblo Citizens' Relief Committee, Pueblo, Colo.

Gentlemen:

The Denver and Rio Grande railroad company recognizes and fully appreciates the energetic and valuable services of your committee in the recovery of bodies lost in the terrible catastrophe near Eden on the seventh instant.

We feel that your work is being carried on intelligently and effectively, and in evidence of our confidence and appreciation we hereby subscribe the further sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000) to your work, and will also assume the payment of one hundred dollars ($100) reward for each additional body recovered on and after this date. Yours very truly,

C. H. SCHLACKS,
Vice President.

Mr. Meston's reply follows:

Aug. 18, 1904.

Mr. C. H. Schlacks, vice president, the Denver and Rio Grande railroad company, Denver, Colo.

Dear Sir:

I am directed by the Relief committee to acknowledge the receipt today from the hands of Messrs. Irvine and Dulles, of your letter of the 17th inst., covering draft for two thousand dollars ($2,000). This sum, together with the unexpended amount in our treasury, and with the one thousand dollars ($1,000) heretofore received from you, will enable us to reimburse in full all of the subscribers to the relief fund.

We sincerely appreciate this voluntary action upon your part and are pleased to further state that all requests made by our committee, of the officials of your road in connection with this unfortunate catastrophe have been promptly granted.

We have discharged practically all of our working force, which, at one time, numbered one hundred and twenty-five (125) men, feeling that the several private searching parties, aided by the few we have retained, will accomplish all that can reasonably be expected in the future.

We will pay the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for every body that may be hereafter recovered and identified, in accordance with the offer made in your letter, will call upon you for reimbursement. Yours very truly,

THE PUEBLO BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.
GEORGE D. MESTON,
President.

Last Witness Is Examined

Two additional witnesses were examined by the coroner's jury yesterday afternoon, making a total of fifty persons from whom testimony has been taken during the inquest. The jury reconvened at 2 o'clock after a recess of one day. In addition to the hearing of testimony the jury devoted a part of the afternoon to a consideration of the evidence that has been submitted with a view to getting it systemized, so that it will be most available in drawing up the conclusions that will be contained in the verdict.

Notice has been sent out by Coroner Fugard to each of the witnesses to appear before the jury Saturday morning for the purpose of signing their evidence. More than 110,000 words of testimony have been taken in the investigation, and it is expected that it will all be extended by Saturday at which time it will be reviewed and signed.

Nothing of importance, aside from the fact that the county bridge had evidently been carried out before the wreck of No. 11, was brought out in the testimony taken yesterday. This was shown in the testimony of Walter Hart, who had been driving during the afternoon of Sunday and discovered the absence of the structure while trying to return to Pueblo.

The first witness called was T. S. Quiett, of Pueblo, a carpenter and bridge builder. He stated that he had at one time been employed in the bridge department of the D. & R. G. and that he had knowledge of the repairs made by the bridge 110-b, having worked there in April, 1900. At that time a piling structure was in use there and the work done was to re-enforce it. This was done by placing between the piles already there frame bents consisting of 12x12 inch timbers resting on a sill placed three feet below the surface of the arroyo. These sills were placed by excavating in the sand and gravel. When questioned as to the kind of bridge that was in use there before that, Mr. Quiett stated that a structure without piles or bents in the middle of the stream would have been better. Regarding the effect the water running past piling he stated that there was a tendency to stop the water and that in such cases it followed the piling downward loosening the sand and gravel about the foundation.

Following Mr. Quiett walter Hart, of Pueblo, was summoned. Mr. Hart was returning from a drive to Pinon on Sunday evening, August 7, and was in the vicinity of the county bridge which was washed out. He stated that his horse suddenly stopped, and he soon discovered that the county bridge over the arroya was out. He said that he saw about three inches of one of the piling on the north side of the
