GRIEF STRICKEN PUEBLO MOURNS ITS DEAD

the Denver and Rio Grande, one of the survivors, had a narrow escape.

"I was sitting in the front end of the forward sleeper, Wyuta," he said, "near the door. The train had slowed up on account of the bad condition of the tracks, and I think we were going about fifteen miles per hour, when all at once I felt a sudden jolt, then a terrific crash, and our car turned almost on its front end. I rushed to the platform and saw before me nothing but a black, raging torrent, with debris, caches whirling down the stream. It was horrible, horrible. I have never experienced anything like the awful sensation that came over me when I saw the cars packed with human beings floating down that raging flood. The water was crashing against the banks with terrible velocity and no human being, it seemed to me, could ever withstand that awful current.

"Strangely enough there was hardly any screaming. I listened to hear the cries but it was all over in a moment and the coaches whirled away down the stream with loads of human beings. Apparently the people were swallowed up in the flood, the water surging into the coaches and drowning them instantly. There was not a sound. I heard no calls for help.

"I reached the bank and joined with those who were trying to rescue the lost. I worked as best I could, but hope I shall never see anything like this again. It was terrible, it was terrible."

Puebloans Perish by Wholesale

Mrs. George F. West came prominently before the public through her husband, Mayor West, who died in December, 1901, during his incumbency. At the time of his death he and Mrs. West resided in their cozy home at 316 Michigan street, and after that she continued to live there very retiringly, retaining her interest in the West Bros.' furniture business on south Union avenue. Mrs. West was formerly Miss Chancellor of Franklin, Mo., in which place her father, William Chancellor, is still living. She came to Pueblo about ten years ago, and for five years was a primary teacher in the south side schools, so that she had a large number of friends in her profession. She married Mr. West, who was at the time a widower, in September, 1899. Their union was an ideally happy one, and after her husband's death, Mrs. West, who had a sweet, retiring and modest disposition, chose to live a secluded life, with church, home and an ideal neighbor and greatly loved by all who knew her. Her death came in the very prime of her life and her sister, Mrs. John Thompson, of Virgelle, Mont., who had been here most of the summer for her health, and who, only a short time ago, underwent an operation at the C. F. & I. hospital, met it with her. They had taken the trip to Cripple Creek for the pleasure and benefit of Mrs. Thompson, who had never seen that part of Colarado. It was their intention in another week to visit their father in Franklin, Mo. John T. West, the brother of ex-Mayor West, had both bodies, which were found by Mr. Richey, one of the men in the store, removed to the home on Michigan street. Mrs. Thompson's husband, a prominent cattleman of Montana, has been telegraphed, as has Mrs. West's father at Franklin. Until they are heard from no funeral arrangements will be made. Mrs. West was a member of the Southern M. E. church.

Herbert R. Groves, whose body was among those discovered yesterday morning, was manager of the Pueblo Plumbing company. He is a native of Vermont and came to Colorado twelve years ago. He established himself in the plumbing business there. He came to Pueblo three years ago, and was first with the Morgan Plumbing company, but was recently made manager of the Pueblo Plumbing company. Mr. Groves had gone to Palmer Lake on Sunday to visit his wife, who was there for her health. The heartbroken widow returned to the city yesterday afternoon. Surviving with her are three sons, aged 9, 16 and 18 years. The deceased was 43 years old, was a member of the Knights of Pythias and other organizations.

Miss Anna Pine, who lived with her parents at 724 east Seventh street, was born near Pueblo, had been for four or five years an operator at the central telephone exchange. She was only 20 years of age and a strikingly pretty brunette. Last year Miss Pine erected a pretty little cottage for her mother at Beulah, and the latter was up there for the summer. During her absence Miss Pine was living with Miss Monahan, also a telephone operator, at her home at 724 east Abriendo avenue. She went to Colorado Springs Sunday to see her sister, who is in the hospital there. She and two other operators expected to go east in September to have a month's vacation and see the world's fair.

Miss Irene Wright, whose body was found with that of little 3-year-old Dorothy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, was the latter's sister and had made her home with the family for a number of years. She had held the position of assistant bookkeeper with the Johnson Dry Goods company for nearly two years. She had been a resident of Pueblo for several years and has taught several terms of school in this part of Colorado. He had already made arrangements to teach at Nyburg during the coming winter. This summer she has been employed at Brown's shoe store. So far as can be learned he has no relatives in this state.

George Beck, another victim, was a comparatively young man, and lived with his wife and little child at 906 east Fourth street. Until the last of August he was in the shoe department of the Crews-Beggs Dry Goods company, having been with the firm for nearly a year. It is supposed that his sister-in-law, Pearl Hopper, perished in the wreck, as she was coming from Colorado Springs with him.

Edward A. Hoes, electrician, at the time of his death was employed by F. Eberhick, electrical contractor, of 111 west C street. The deceased boarded at 111 east Seventh street.

Mrs. Ella Stevens, of Northampton, Mass., who perished in the wreck, was a guest of the family of M. H. Rich, 1 east Sixth street. Mrs. Stevens belonged to a prominent and wealthy family of Northampton.

R. S. Maxwell was a cousin of B. F. Scribner of The Chieftain, and was formerly with The Chieftain. For the past three months Mr. Maxwell had been stenographer at the Pueblo Tract company. His family resides in Kansas.

T. S. Reece, Globe Express company's agent in charge of the express car on the wrecked train, is dead but his body has not yet been found. Reece is about 29 years old. For eight years he has been in the employ of the company. He is the sole support of an aged mother and several small brothers and sisters. The mother lives at 3237 Gilpin street, Denver.

William E. Hughes of 1009 west Twelfth street, was born in Columbus, O., in 1862. He arrived in Pueblo seven years ago and became a partner in the firm of Hughes-Johnson, tin and sheet metal works at 418 Santa Fe avenue. Mr. Hughes is survived by his mother, Mary E. Hughes, and aunt, Laura M. Hughes.

Dr. Walter Ferguson Munn came to his death by the wreck of the Missouri Pacific train at Eden, was born in Ginseng, Mo., 30 years old. He graduated from Anderson college, Glasgow. For a time he worked at machinist's trade then entered dentistry at Northwestern university, Chicago, from which he graduated with honors. In Pueblo he married Jennie Adaline Wood at Aurora, Ill. He came to Pueblo, December 28, 1902. He was a master in his profession and soon had a practice worthy of his skill. At a time when his future seemed assured, faithful husband and a loving, happy father. Perhaps no man in the city was held in higher esteem than Dr. Munn. Honorable and upright in all his business, cordial and kind in all his friendships, he numbered his true friends by the hundreds. Just one year ago today he had good hope to his father and mother in Scotland. In his office there was enshrined by Mrs. Munn, Ralph W. Munn (age 4) and Walter Wilson Munn (age 3) and his sister-in-law, Miss Jessie Wood, who went with him to the other world.

Miss Emily Wood, daughter of Mrs. G. G. Campbell and the late Jesse R. Wood and Mrs. Dr. W. F. Munn was born at Aberdeen, Kas., November 29, 1876. When 2 years of age she was taken to Aurora, Ill., where she received her education. In 1892 she moved to Chicago, Ill., where she resided 7 years and from which she came to Pueblo. She was an expert stenographer and bookkeeper. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city, one of the most earnest and active members of the C. E. society. She was a leader. She was popular. She did well everything she undertook to do. She was much in public life yet always said there is "no place like home." Seldom do we find a brother and sister so intensely devoted to each other as were Miss Emily Wood and her brother Jesse R. Wood. Many friends mourn her departure.

Don Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Campbell, was with his father on the ill-fated train. The family had gone to Manitou for the day, and Mrs. Campbell, who has not been well, decided to stay for a few days. Young Campbell was identified among the dead yesterday. He was about 17 years old and is a student in Central high school. His father's body has not yet been found. Mr. Campbell is a well known contractor and lived with his family at 16 Broadway.

J. Ehrlich, cashier of the zinc smelter, came to Pueblo with his family from New York City about ten years ago. He was until the first of last January connected with Eller's smelter. Mr. Ehrlich was about 50 years old. His wife and three sons, the oldest of whom is Horace is a graduate of the State School of Mines at Golden and for the past nine months has been chemist at Ellers' plant in Perth, Amboy, N. J. The other two sons are students in the city schools.

Miss Stella McDonald had been for years a teacher in the schools of Pueblo. She was principal of Minnequa building, and instructor in physical culture for District No. 20. With her widowed mother, Mrs. Emma McDonald, and sister, Miss Alice, who is principal of the Beulah school, she resided at 813 south Union avenue. Her brother, James McDonald, is a Linotype operator at The Chieftain and resides with his family at 711 west Tenth street. Miss McDonald and Dr. James B. McGregor had gone to Colorado Springs to spend the day with Miss Blanch Brown.

Dr. James B. McGregor, whose body was found last night, arrived in Pueblo just five weeks ago from Ballard, Wash., to visit his sisters, Mrs. Jean McGregor Rettberg and Mrs. M. Parkhaker. Three years ago he graduated from the Hahnemann Medical school at Philadelphia, and went immediately to Washington where he had built up a fine practice and made scores of friends. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McGregor, who formerly lived in Pueblo, reside in Ballard with him. Dr.

MAJOR FRANK H. WHITMAN, Of 20th Kansas Regiment U. S. A.

McGregor had postponed his return home in order that his sister, Mrs. Rettberg, and two little daughters might accompany him, as they expected to spend the summer in Washington. Mrs. Rettberg has been ill and was unable to make the trip sooner. They had planned to leave for the east Wednesday. Relatives have been notified of their son's tragic death and are on their way to Pueblo for the funeral.

Unidentified Dead a Sad Spectacle

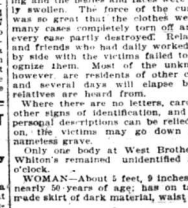

The saddest spectacle of all were the unidentified bodies. Friends and relatives gathered themselves about those who were not, and their mourning seemed to soften the pitableness of their fate. But no one appeared to shed tears over the unknown dead and so were scattered literally in heaps upon the floors of the undertaking rooms.

Recognition of the dead bodies will be hard. Nine-tenths met death by drowning and the bodies and faces were battered and bruised. The force of the current was so great that the clothes were in many cases completely torn off and the victims were partly stripped. Relatives and friends who had daily worked side by side with the victims failed to recognize them. Many of the unknown, however, are residents of other cities, and several days will elapse before identities are fully established.

Where there are no letters, cards or other signs of identification, and only personal description can be relied upon, the victims may go down to a nameless grave.

Only one body at West Brothers & Whiton's remained unidentified at 12 o'clock.

off, on dark neck band, were Epworth league pin; on third finger of right hand is plain gold band ring, also wire ring; on third finger of left hand are two gold band rings, also one ring with two opal settings between which are two diamond chips; also wore diamond ear rings.

One body at McMahon & Collier's morgue remained unidentified at 12 o'clock.

MAN—About 25 or 26 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches tall. Brown hair and mustache; light hair in front; face is sharp featured; in his right vest pocket was an open faced Waterbury watch.

At T. G. McCarthy's morgue at 12 o'clock last night there were three unidentified bodies.

WOMAN—About 5 feet 5 inches tall and apparently 26 or 27 years of age. Blonde hair and a very full face; her dress is of a light brown color and she has on a white collar and bow tie; also each sleeve of the waist was a large white pearl button; her stockings are of brown color and she has on tan oxfords; on the third finger of the left hand is a small diamond ring; also a ring with three opal settings.

WOMAN—Medium height and between 45 and 50 years of age, heavy head of light hair; she wears a white waist and a red four-in-hand tie; has on black oxford shoes, the remainder of her clothing is so badly torn as to give no means of identification.

WOMAN—About 35 years of age; has light brown hair; blue dress of thin material, white collar and black oxfords.

WOMAN—About 23 years of age and very beautiful. Clothes were found after dark twelve miles below the scene of the wreck.

Albert Newton, a 16-year-old boy of Cripple Creek, the son of William Newton of 131 Eaton avenue, in the gold camp, is among the missing. The lad was on his way to Pueblo to visit the family of R. G. Murphy and last evening Mr. Murphy received the following telegram from the distracted father:

"Albert was on the wrecked train. Hunt him up and wire me. I am waiting anxiously."

Mr. Murphy at once visited the several morgues and failed to find the body of the lad, and it is thought probable that the body is still lying under the sands and debris of the Fountain.

The body of the woman at West Brothers and Whiton described as unidentified is believed to be that of Mrs. Donnely of this city, though at 2 o'clock this morning it had not been positively identified.

Durango, Aug. 8.—It is not believed here that Mrs. Edward Roscoe is among the victims of the wreck. She resides in Tennessee and was visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Gaibraith. She left for Denver accompanied by her father several days ago, leaving last night's train for St. Louis, her father accompanying her as far as Pueblo being en route to Pittsburg. Judge Gaibraith was among the survivors and wired his family they escaped injury. Gaibraith went to Florence this evening to attend the Red Men's meeting and it is supposed Mrs. Roscoe continued on her trunk, of course being in wrecked car.

Trains Resume Regular Schedule

The bridge which was washed out by the torrent of water was of wooden construction, 96 feet in length, 20 feet high and has three 32-foot panels. The bridge, according to records in the offices of the Rio Grande railroad company, was built two years ago, after a washout had destroyed it. An iron bridge was ordered and in about two months ago, and it was reported to be in safe condition at that time. Judge Gaibraith was looking down upon the structure all the bents were washed out, leaving only the stringers and flooring. However, these could not be seen by an approaching train, and the bridge looked safe from a distance.

It is claimed that Brakeman J. J. Affley on train No. 7, which passed Fountain only a few minutes before the fated No. 11 did, reported to the officials at the yard office in Pueblo, that he was positive that during the passage of trains, as he noticed it rocked considerable when their train passed over them. This is one of the unknowns, however, are residents of other cities, and several days will elapse before identities are fully established.

Where there are no letters, cards or other signs of identification, and only personal description can be relied upon, the victims may go down to a nameless grave.

NOT FIT FOR CLEMENCY

President Refuses to Soften Sentence of Criminal.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 8.—President Roosevelt has declined to interfere in the case of John W. Burley, a negro, confined in the jail of the District of Columbia under sentence of death for the crime of criminal assault, the victim having been a little girl 4½ years old. The president has directed that the sentence of the jury be carried into effect on August 26 inst., as decreed.

An application was made to the president to commute the sentence of Burley to imprisonment for life, it being alleged that the prisoner was of mind so weak as to be irresponsible for his crime. The subject was referred to Attorney General Moody. He investigated the case and reported to the president today fully as to the facts.

In rejecting the application for the commutation of Burley's sentence, President Roosevelt made the following memorandum:

"White House, Washington, Aug. 8, 1904. The application for the commutation of the sentence of John W. Burley is denied. This man committed the most hideous crime known to our laws and twice before he has committed crimes of a similar though less horrible character. In my judgment there is no justification whatever for paying heed to the allegations that he is not of sound mind, allegations made after the trial and conviction. Nobody would pretend that there has ever been any such degree of mental unsoundness shown as would make people even consider sending him to an asylum if he had not committed this crime. And such circumstances as should certainly be esteemed sane enough to suffer the penalty for his monstrous deed. I have scant sympathy with the plea of insanity advanced to save a man from the consequences of crime, unless that crime had been committed it would have been impossible to persuade any reasonable authority to commit him to any asylum as insane. Among the most dangerous criminals and especially those prone to commit this particular kind of offense, there are plenty of a temper so fiendish or so brutal as to be incompatible with any other than the brutish order of intelligence; but these men are nevertheless responsible for their acts, and nothing more tends to encourage crime among such men than the belief that through the plea of insanity or any other method it is possible for them to escape paying the just penalty of their crimes. The crime in question is one to the existence of which we largely owe the existence of that spirit of lawlessness which takes form in lynching. It is crime so revolting that the criminal is not entitled to one particle of sympathy from any human being. It is essential that the punishment for it should be not only as certain but as swift as possible. The jury in this case did their duty by inflicting the death penalty. It is to be regretted that we do not have special provision for more summary dealing with this type of case. The more we do what in us lies to secure certain and swift justice in dealing with these cases, the more effectively do we work against the growth of that spirit which is so full of evil omen for this people, because it seeks to avenge one infamous crime by the commission of another of equal infamy.

"The application is denied and the sentence will be carried into effect."

Attempted Train Wrecking.

By Associated Press.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 8.—An attempt was made to wreck the Atlantic express on the Union Pacific railroad near Ahsay station, between Rock Springs and Green River, early today.

John Utley, station agent at Ahsay, noticed the lights of the switch were turned in the wrong way and started to fix them when he was fired at from the dark and wounded in the arm.

Utley fell to the ground and the would-be train wreckers fled.

Utley managed to get to the station and called up Wilkins, the next station west. The Atlantic express was flagged there and the wreck and probable holdup was thus prevented.

Three Days' Naval Fight.

By Associated Press.

Che Foo, Aug. 8-9 p. m.—A reliable authority says that eight Russian warships participated in the recent three days' battle at Port Arthur. Since then the Sevastopol and the Amur have been repaired.

It is to be presumed that the fighting referred to was the engagement reported by General Stoessel, commander of the Russian military forces at Port Arthur, to have occurred July 28, 27 and 28.

BUNCH TOGETHER

Coffee Has a Curious Way of Finally Attacking Some Organ.

Alls that come from coffee are cumulative, that is, unless the coffee is taken away new troubles are continually appearing and the old ones get worse.

"To begin with," says a Kansan, "I was a slave to coffee just as thousands of others today, thought I could not live without drinking strong coffee every morning for breakfast and I had sick headaches that kept me in bed several days every month. Could hardly keep my food on my stomach but would vomit as long as I could throw anything up and when I could get hot coffee to stay on my stomach I thought I was better.

"Well, two years ago this spring I was that sick with rheumatism I could not use my right arm to do anything, had heart trouble, was nervous. My nerves were all unstrung and my finger nails and tips were blue as if I had a chill all the time and my face and body as yellow as a pumpkin. My doctor said it was heart disease and rheumatism and my neighbors said I had Bright's disease and was going to die.

"Well, I did not know what on earth was the matter and every morning would drag myself out of bed and go to breakfast, not to eat anything, but to force down some more coffee. Then in a little while I would be so nervous my heart would beat like everything.

"Finally one morning I told my husband I believed coffee was the cause of this trouble and that I thought I would try Postum which I had seen advertised. He said 'All right' so we got Postum and although I did not like it at first I got right down to business and made it according to directions then it was fine and the whole family got to using it and I tell you it has worked wonders for us. We have left coffee Postum in place of poison coffee, I now enjoy good health, have not been in bed with sick headache for two years although I had it for 20 years before I began Postum and my nerves are now strong and I have no trouble from my heart or from the rheumatism.

"I consider Postum a necessary article of food on my table. My friends who come here and taste my Postum say it is delicious. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each package.

STOMACH DOSING WILL NOT CURE

Only Way to Cure Catarrh is by Breathing Hyomei.

Ask any physician if catarrh is a blood disease and he will tell you that it is a diseased condition of the mucous membrane and that it cannot be cured by blood purifiers, pills, tablets, or other forms of stomach dosing. The only sensible and scientific way of curing catarrh is by the use of Hyomei.

Breathed for a few minutes four or five times a day, through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, Hyomei will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germs in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

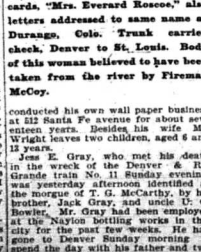

The Baldwin Drug Co., one of the most reliable firms in Pueblo, are giving personal guarantee with every package of Hyomei they sell, that it will effect a cure or they will return the money. They have had scores of reports of remarkable cures of bronchitis and chronic cases of catarrh by Hyomei.

No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life, as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

CURE FOR HAY FEVER.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and the burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

How to Judge Beer

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

"BRILLIANCY"—Clarity and polish, proving perfect brewing and fermentation.

"CLEAN" TASTE—The absence of a disagreeable twang or "after taste," proving scrupulous cleanliness in brewing material.

"SOLID, CREAMY FOAM"—An infallible indication of body, age and excellence of brewing material.

"PURITY"—Impossible to find in most bottled beers, because their preservation is effected through chemical adulteration.

"FLAVOR"—The distinctive individual quality, produced by age; as peculiar to it alone as is the odor to the rose. Supreme and pronounced hop aroma is the highest standard.

A. B. C.

is the ONLY beer that possesses all of these essential qualifications in perfect combination, as proved by its tastiness. It is the ONLY beer that can be recommended because it is the ONLY beer bottled exclusively at the brewery.
