gets under the
the bon ton of the g time coterie.
xception of Norman,
at the residence of ne, the attorney, who 5 west Orman avenue.
at Norman became nxious or envious of
lousy that sprung up
r greater than that kened in Othello and hat they had to send McCafferty "of them

me convinced that attentive to Miss Iola
s forthcoming to sup-ef—but Norman's sub-showed that he la-
is belief nevertheless uhtantly feels," said a Ir. Keene is pow'ful ss Iola and he nach'lly esficatin' around."
4—just a half dozen
nan accompanied by a
Mr. Devine's house.
kitchen and then beouse that would have
house John or Hinky
o. He waved his gun
to kill Keene and Miss their tracks."
stunt nearly threw, as
Mrs. Devine into hysweyer, summoned will ther maid in the house
he police.
evine got home there
g in the jurisprudence
ared yesterday in case
ey E. C. Holt needed
he sure didn't—at least ll you he needed check-urging on.
everyone of weight he
to prove that he was peaceable as a rabbit.
f witnesses who, if they

It is all just a medley of darktown—just a rhapsody in ragtime. There was but one incongruous or unharmonizing note in the whole love comedy. That is Iola's surname. Her name is—her name is—it seems too bad to tell it, but truth must prevail. All the fragrance of the south is knocked away by the telling. Her name is Iola Maloney. No wonder Norman wants to change it.

DIED

HOMBURG—Wednesday, February 10, 1909, Mrs. Bertha Homburg, aged 61. The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of West Bros. & Whiton, and funeral arrangements will be announced later. Mrs. Homburg lived at No. 2020 Orman avenue.

EVERETT—Wednesday, February 10, 1909, in this city, Clarence Everett, aged 22 years. Funeral services were held at Linkins & Vories' chapel at 7:30 o'clock last night and the remains were then sent to Beulah for interment.

Funeral Notices

The funeral of Henry C. Madison will be held at 1:30 today from the undertaking parlors of West Bros. & Whiton. Services will also be held at 2 o'clock from the St. John's A. M. E. church. Interment will be in the north side cemetery.

The funeral of John Bosdick will be held from McMahon & Collier's chapel at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and at 2 o'clock from St. Mary's church. The services will be under the auspices of the Redmen and Austrian societies of which Mr. Bosdick was a member. Interment will be in Roselawn.

The funeral of Richard Norton was held from St. Patrick's church at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Interment club now occupies, and has been appointed to c architects and contractors.

tion of the directors is t garden ready to be used
The plans call for an exp about $5,000. The club ha Prof. W. F. O'Neil for a structor and regular classe ganized.

DESERTER SURRENDE
just 8 o'clock by Col. El piece when the door of polic ters opened last night an entered. Saluting to Nigh lon, he said: "I wish to
up. My name is Harry L.
serted from Company M, infantry, stationed at Fort hungry and cold and want After all there's no place Sam's barracks. I sure w U. S. A. soldier again. Or couldn't pry me loose wi shell."

SPEAKER MAY COM
Chairman C. A. Ballreich mittee of eighteen, in ch plans for a commission f ernment, has received a Dunbar F. Carpenter
Springs in which it is stat ton Rogers Woodruff of secretary of the Nationa league, will speak in Colo Feb. 25. An effort will bring Mr. Woodruff to Pu is in Colorado. The c eighteen will hold an imp ing this evening in the Business Men's associatio

BESSEMER OFFICE—
date the large increase semer business the Fuel Fuel company is arranging lish its Bessemer office.
room at 320 west Northe