company. Mr. Bost was in the center of the reservoir when his shotgun was accidently discharged, the contents of the load striking him in his left foot. The little toe was blown off and the one next to it mangled to such an extent that an amputation will probably for treatment. It was stated last night that while his foot would be saved, it would be necessary for an amputation of the other toe to be made. Just one week ago the first accident of the hunting season was reported resulting in J. M. Johnson having his arm shattered by the accidental discharge of his shot gun. Mr. Bost resides at 1643 Belmont street and is employed at the steel works.
