JURY ADJOURNS.

When the coroner's jury which is investigating the accident at the steel worsk converter convened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning there were no witnesses present to be examined. It was expected that Superintendent Thomas Crowe, of the converter, would be able to be at the inquest, but his condition was reported not as well as was to be expected. Other witnesses were slow in arriving and it was decided to adjourn the investigation for one week, when it is expected Mr. Crowe will have recovered from his injuries sufficiently to permit his presence.
