PUEBLOANS WILL CONDUCT FUNERAL AT TRINIDAD

Special to The Chieftain.

Trinidad, Feb. 2.—Tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock the first of the funerals will take place. It will be that of fourteen Slovenians, subjects of Austria, who will be buried in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. Father C. Zupan, of St. Mary church, Pueblo, arrived here tonight and will conduct the funeral of the fourteen men in the chapel of the Trinidad Undertaking company.

The Pueblo Slovenian chorus, fifteen strong, arrived here tonight to conduct the singing service at the funerals of their countrymen.

At 11:30 the Hungarian societies will conduct the funerals over five of their countrymen. At 1 p. m. funerals of nine Koreans will take place. The body of William J. Helmer, electrician at the mine will be sent tomorrow morning to his old home in Wisconsin.

WORK IN MINE GROWS DIFFICULT

Special to The Chieftain.

Primero, Feb. 2. At 8 o'clock tonight two more bodies were recovered from the mine, making a total of fifty-five. The count had at one time been made fifty-nine, but this proved to be an error. The excitement has quieted to a considerable extent, but the rescue work is still going steadily on.

Black damp is getting worse with depth as the rescuers penetrate further into the mine, and from this time on oxygen helmets will be absolutely necessary. An oxygen helmet expert from Denver arrived here tonight and will take charge of the rescue work. The body of one electrician was recovered in A-7. Joe Haskey, superintendent at Morley mine, is here aiding in the rescue work.
