Murat Halstead's Book of the Hour Full of Interest.

One of the most timely of contributions to the book literature of the day is "The Story of Cuba; Her Struggles for Liberty," by Murat Halstead, the noted correspondent and editor, which has just been issued from the press of the Werner company, Chicago. Mr. Halstead has had the advantages of recent personal observation of the situation in Cuba, receiving as he says in his introduction, "Polite attentions and extensive information from the Spanish authorities, and enjoying the confidence of Cubans and the candid expression of their interpretation of events." The book gives in charming English, and forcefully, the history of the island for 400 years, is copiously descriptive and accurately prepared historically. Each of the several heartrending struggles for liberty is chronicled in vivid narrative and frequent extracts are made from official documents. The Story of Cuba" gives one a better and more complete understanding of the present revolution and its causes than anything heretofore published. It is generously illusrated with portraits, reproductions of photographs and original drawings. Well printed on heavy paper and attractively bound in cloth it is more than satisfactory in every way.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to return heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so nobly assisted me during the long illness of my beloved wife Frederika Korber, and showed their respect and sympathy by their attendance at her funeral and large contribution of flowers. Their kindness will never be forgotten.

WM. KORBER.

M'KINLEY CLUB.

Colored Citizens Effect an Oragnizatlon and Choose Officers.

Several colored men met Tuesday night and organized a McKinley club. The officers are Charles Williams, president; Ike Johnson, vice president; H. L. Lewis, secretary; Beryl Taylor, treasurer. They claim to start with a membership of 25 and Mr. Johnson, the vice president, says that by the time the next meeting is held they expect to have 250. The one principle of the club is to support Mr. McKinley. This is the first organization of the kind in the city, although a club was recently organized at Artman.

TROOPS FOR LEADVILLE.

Pueblo Officers Ordered to Be Ready to Move.

It may be stated positively that word has been received from the adjutant general in Denver by National Guard officers in Pueblo instructing them to be ready to move their commands to Leadville on short notice. All the officers decline, however, to discuss the subject. No additional orders have yet been received but there seems to be an idea that sooner or later it is to be a sure go.

BILLIARD EXPERTS.

Play the First Half of a State Championship Game.

Tony Sarcone, champion billiard player of Colorado, and Frank Keniston, champion of Nebraska, played the first half of a 500-point straight rail billiard match at Ben Wilson's billiard parlor last night. It was a pretty exhibition and was witnessed by quite a number of lovers of the game. The second half of the game, or 250 points, will be played at the same place Friday evening. Keniston won last night's match, making his 250 points in eighteen innings. His runs averaged 13 8-9. His largest runs were 82, 58, 45, 20 and 17. Sarcone made 197 points in seventeen innings, averaging 11 10-17 in each. This was the fifth game of a series and the score stands: Keniston 1750, Sarcone 1583.

The billiardists will play a series of games all over the state for the state championship. The other games are to be at Leadville, Cripple Creek, Victor and Colorado Springs. Sarcone has held the championship for many years, but it looks now as though he would lose it. Keniston has recently come to the state and is in charge of the billiard room of the Denver Athletic club. At the conclusion of the game last night both contestants gave a very pleasing exhibition of fancy pool and billiard shots. During their stay in the city they will make Mr. Wilson's place their headquarters and will give fancy exhibitions in the afternoon and evening.
