FUNERAL OF J. S. KUMMERER.

The funeral of the late John S. Kummerer yesterday morning was one of the largest ever seen in this city. The citizens of Pueblo and the members of the different secret societies of which Mr. Kummerer was a member were present in large numbers and also a delegation of forty Odd Fellows from the lodge and canton in Colorado Springs, of which Mr. Kummerer was a member during his residence in that city.

The floral tributes sent by sympathizing friends and by the various orders were very beautiful and were tastefully arranged around the casket. The impressive services at the house were conducted by Rev. Mr. Rudolph, who is occupying the pulpit of the Mesa Presbyterian church during the absence of the pastor.

At 10 o'clock the procession, headed by Stanchfield's band, started for Riverview cemetery. On each side of the hearse, which was drawn by four handsome black horses with black nets, marched the pall bearers, Chevaliers, Humphreys, Thomas, Baldwin, Klink, Betell and Bruckschen. Fully three hundred Odd Fellows from the lodges, encampments and cantons of the city were in line including the delegation from Pikes Peak lodge and Canton Colfax at Colorado Springs. A large number of the P. O. S. of A. and of the Daughters of Rebeka followed the funeral in carriages.

On arriving at the grave in Riverview cemetery the I. O. O. F. burial service was conducted by Captain F. M. Weidman, of Canton Garfield, and Patriarch John McCormick, and after the last sad rites the procession wended its way back to the city.
