BLOWS OUT HIS BRAINS

Special to The Chieftain.

Fairplay, Nov. 4.—Despondent because he had lost all of his savings amounting to over $1,200 in the failure of the Fidelity Savings and Loan association of Denver and also because a young lady to whom he had proposed had rejected him, Alfred Lloyd, a well known miner of this place, committed suicide in his room at the Victor hotel last night by blowing out his brains.