actly fills this need. No opiates, no sour stomach, no constipation follows its use. Stuffy colds, wheezy breathing, coughs and croup are all quickly helped, and sweet refreshing slumber instead of feverish tossing at night. It is easy therefore to understand why an increasing number of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is sold today. Baldwin Drug Co.

Funeral Notices

The funeral of Mrs. Jennie S. Lockin will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence, 3411 Greenwood street. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Thomas Casady, rector of St. Peter's church. Interment will be made in the North Side City cemetery in charge of T. G. McCarthy & Co.

The remains of Helen Jakerbjanec were forwarded yesterday afternoon by McCarthy to Walsenburg, Colo., for interment. The remains were accompanied by the mother and other relatives.

TONIGHT

United Commercial Travelers' dance, Congress hotel. Friends invited.

Five Couples Want to Wed

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to five couples, constituting the biggest day's business at the Cupid bureau for a month. The list follows: John W. Wigley and Elizabeth J. Smith, both of Pueblo; Peter Jacobovich and Julia Rebar, both of Pueblo; Martin J. Marley of Garber, Garfield county, Okla., and Mrs. Gertrude A. Minane of Pueblo; John Walter Turner and Edna May Moyer, both of Pueblo; Mike Fatich of Canon City and Angela Cach of Pueblo.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our many thanks to the Banner Circle No. 4, the G. I.

other five minutes of his fighting he was placed in a cell, where he began screaming and yelling; and kept this up until other prisoners asked that he be put where they could not hear him.

"To the bull pen," said Chief Grady. But when this plan was about to be put into execution it was learned that no easy job had been proposed. Seven officers seized him, but he resisted ever inch of the way until, by the combined efforts of the officers, he was thrown into the bull pen, and the door clanged upon him.

It is claimed by the police that Artzer is the strongest and most athletic man with which they have ever had to deal. Little is known of him, except that he is a laborer.

INFORMANT "PINCHED," TOO

Riley Walker's Voluntary Information Resulted Disastrously for Him

Riley Walker's volunteer service as informant to the police department resulted rather disastrously for Riley. He bounded into the police headquarters full tilt Saturday night declaring to the officers that he knew where they could find a man who was about to steal a bicycle. "Just the kind of a man we're looking for," Riley was advised. "Point him out."

Riley conducted Officers Winterbottom and McCauley to the Victoria bridge where they found one G. D. Dixon from Stone City, a colored man, talking to Ella Harper. Walker endeavored to explain to the police that Miss Harper had remained there at his request, simply to retain Dixon, and that neither she nor himself had anything to do with the bicycle story, but the officers made a clean sweep of it and the trio went to jail.

In police court yesterday there was