eastward and connect with a similar road, and constructed by the same people, at Garden City, Kas., from there to run to Tulsa, Okla. The Garden City portion of the road is now being built and a portion of it is in operation. Parties who have been down there say the work is really being pushed and that this last move seems to be in accord with the plans of the company.

In the Kendrick neighborhood, they say, a townsite has been selected, four land owners a dectaoishrdluetaoinunu land owners putting in forty acres each, making a desirable and sufficiently large plat for a town. From Colorado Springs eastward the work is to be pushed as rapidly as it can be with a view to opening up this great
