with much cloudiness and an excess of rainfall. The greatest temperature deficiency occurred in the northern half of the state, where it ranged from 2 degrees in the east to 6 degrees in the west. Weekly rainfall was heaviest east of the mountains, but exceeded the normal throughout the greater part of the state. The first three days were generally fair with large amounts of sunshine and very high maximum temperatures. On the 28th a decided change to cooler took place, accompanied by general and heavy rains. At several stations the rainfall on this date exceeded 2.50 inches. The remainder of the week was cool and cloudy, with frequent showers.

AMUSEMENTS

Will Talk to Women Only

Miss Grace Courtland, who is playing a week's engagement at the Earl theater, will talk to the women of Pueblo exclusively at the matinee performance this afternoon. Miss Courtland has announced that she has something to say to the women that is not for sterner ears, and she has selected the matinee this afternoon for this purpose. During her several appearances at the Earl this week Miss Courtland has thoroughly demonstrated that she is capable of solving and making clear the most puzzling questions and problems, and her talk to the women of Pueblo this afternoon
