Pioneer Dies

At an early hour last night Hugh McDermott, aged 70 years and an old resident of Pueblo, died at his home, 10 Block X, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. McDermott has been a resident of Pueblo for nearly twenty years past and was very popular among a large circle of friends. He is survived by a son, John McDermott, and a daughter, Mrs. Blanche Quinns, of Colorado Springs. Funeral arrangements are pending until instructions are received from the relatives. The remains are at McMahon & Colller's.
