A most pathetic circumstances occurred last Friday night at 10 o'clock when Mrs. Mary McDonald, beloved wife of A. J. McDonald, passed away at the family residence, 1100 Topaz avenue following an illness of several weeks duration. Immediately adjoining the sick room of Mrs. McDonald during her illness, lay Mrs. Anna B. Sitton, daughter of Mrs. McDonald and wife of William Sitton, well known residents of Pueblo, in a serious condition and at the hour of Mrs. McDonald's death physicians were using every effort to save the life of her daughter but she too passed away but twelve hours after the death of her mother. Mrs. McDonald was 78 years of age and Mrs. Sitton 42. Both had been long residents of Pueblo and the news of their deaths will come as a great shock to their many friends. The remains were removed to the McCarthy chapel and the funeral of Mrs. McDonald will occur from McCarthy's Tuesday morning at 8:30 and from St. Patrick's church at 9. Mrs. Sitton will be buried from the late residence, the time to be announced later.
