What is your preferred method of dealing with the owner during the design phase and how do you address owner concerns/comments.

What are the steps in the design process and how do you propose to organize the process?

PCCLD includes physical locations located throughout Pueblo County. What techniques will you employ to ensure the renovated Rawlings Library reflects a consistent “brand” for the Library District and, at the same time, respects the unique qualities of the Rawlings Library design.

This project will use a budget to control the project and one that cannot be exceeded. Describe your experience in controlling “design creep”, controlling costs and meeting budget and time constraints. In short, how do you propose to furnish a design that the owner can afford?

Describe professional services performed by your staff and any professional services that you would assign to others, such as civil engineering, structural engineering, mechanical engineering, acoustical engineering, electrical engineering, plumbing engineering, landscape architecture, etc. If you engage specialty consultants, how do you control the quality and timeliness of their work product? Provide an approximate percentage of outside professional services that you would anticipate using in this project.

Describe how you will communicate progress in the design of this project. Will models, drawings or computer animations be furnished, and if so, at what stages? Will renderings be available for presentation in our fundraising process along with presentation assistance? What role do you expect to play in construction administration during the construction phase of the project? Will you attend regular update meetings during construction and review contractor pay applications? Will you provide construction observation site visits on a regular basis and report to PCCLD any deviations from the design documents and work with PCCLD and the contractor in required corrections to work? Will you review project closeout documentation submitted by the contractor? Will you conduct site inspection at the end of the project and create punch list items and issue a certificate of substantial completion?

Describe the technology focus of your firm. PCCLD expects the design and construction team to use an electronic, web-based project management system from design through the construction and close-out phases of the project. PCCLD expects contract documents to be furnished in electronic format that we can review. PCCLD also expects to receive record drawings at the completion of the project to be furnished in electronic format.

Describe your experience in providing professional services when a Contract Manager/General Contractor approach is used.

List the Design Architect, Project Architect, and Lead Interior Designer assigned to this project, and describe each of their respective experience in projects of similar size, type, and systems. List any other projects for which the Design Architect, Project Architect, and Interior Designer would have concurrent responsibility, assuming 4/1/2020 start date.
Item 4: Project Completion

Describe a general project approach that could be employed to complete the project.

Provide a contemplated timeline and project schedule with key milestones identified.

For all projects completed within the last five years, identify separately:
   a. Has your firm ever filed for bankruptcy?
   b. Has your firm ever failed to complete a project or been terminated from a project before its completion?

Describe what differentiates the firm’s service from that of other competitors and makes your firm the best choice for this project.

Item 5: Compensation

Describe in detail how you are compensated for professional services and how you would expect to be compensated for services rendered to PCCLD for this project and what services are included. Include a description of what party bears the cost of any redesign work required that is caused by 1. Owner changes; 2. Architect oversight/omission; or 3. Redesign required to meet budgetary constraints.

Provide a sample contract form that you would expect to use for this engagement.

7. Evaluation and Selection

PCCLD will review submittals submitted by the RFQ deadline and select a short list of qualified firms for interview and final selection. PCCLD will negotiate a contract with the selected firm. PCCLD will select the services and terms that are most advantageous to it.

8. Right of Acceptance and Rejection

PCCLD reserves the right to accept or reject any or all submittals and to waive any formalities, informalities, and deviations, which, in its opinion, best serve the interests of PCCLD. PCCLD will select the submittal that represents the best service for PCCLD.
