 - Do:
 - Use gloves when picking up tobacco or drug items and then dispose of them (trash for cigarette buds etc., and sharps container for needles.)
 - If a large quantity (i.e. a Rig Kit) of drugs is found, police must be called and a report made. If they do not come to pick the item up, Facilities should be contacted for disposal.

Book Bundles:

I had one book bundle request for true crimes

Displays:

I had two displays this month. One was an adult women's history month and the other was true crime. The true crime display was a huge hit. I believe it turned over (* as in all of the books were checked out) about six times. I was surprised. I thought true crime would be interesting to the patrons but I didn't understand how interested they would be.

The women's history month display did well too. Folks seemed to enjoy the biographies quite a bit. Dolly Parton, Nancy Reagan and Billie Jean King were notables that were checked out.

Economic Development:

PW contributed to the community's economic development by providing technology help to 21 customers and resume/job search support to 2 customers.

Outreach:

- On March 22, 2022, I held my second Seniors MAKE! program at the Cappella Assisted Living Facility. The 9 residents who attended made spring flowers out of felt, ribbon, buttons and straws. Those who attended had a great time and walked away smiling with cheery flowers for their rooms.

- Beth Moore delivered a Story Time Kit with books, musical instruments and crafts to Children's Palace Daycare. (The kits were delivered to the daycare for the staff to use rather than doing in-person story times at the daycare since they are not allowing outside visitors at this time.)

- In March I visited three PW churches, SonRise Methodist, St. Paul Catholic Church and The Ecumenical Church of PW, to introduce myself, explain what programs we are currently offering and drop off program flyers, posters, bookmarks, and newsletters.

DIRECTOR

- A new substitute orientation was held on March 3rd with eight new subs. Shadowing shifts have been completed by all of them.
- RFIDLS was onsite to complete the renovation of the first floor AMH. The machine is up and running and the sort still needs to be reconfigured before it is able to use.
- Jill Kleven gave a presentation to the Friends Board on the diversity initiative for collections at their March board meeting.
- Jill gave a presentation to the Board of Trustees on the Request for Reconsideration process for items that are questioned within the collection.
- Jill met with FE Technologies to discuss all of the specs for the new self-checks which should arrive in June.
- Jill gave a virtual presentation at PLA in the Bywater Solutions booth on Driving Innovation with Aspen Discovery.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

- The collection development librarians continue to work on the Rawlings refresh, opening day collections. Orders need to be placed by April 17th.
- Amy, our Ingram rep met with Elizabeth Flores, Peggy Bilger, and Pat Mascarenas. She gave Pat training on ordering through iPage since Pat now orders adult nonfiction material.

ILS

- Due to the renovation the adult collection moved from the second to first floor. Items were shadowed within Koha during this time. They are now unshadowed as staff are allowed to access the collection to pull holds.
- The phone notification system to alert patrons of their holds was down for approximately a week. Jill and IT worked together to get the system up and running.
- There was an outage with one of Bywater’s service providers and the ILS was down on March 27th. Initially it was thought that some transactional data was lost from March 26th. However, thanks to Bywater’s back up logs, all of the data was restored.

Archives Projects

Blake found a binder of donor papers. These have been added to the accession master list. We now have over 300 individual accessions. Cecily encapsulated the larger maps until we ran out of mylar. Cecily presented to Barkman and Lamb Staff about SCMS offerings. Jerry, our intern, has been rehousing materials in preparation for the renovation.

Collections processed in the month of March:

- Pueblo Colorado Carousel Committee Records
- Anza Exhibit Research Collection
- Pueblo Monday Evening Club
- Ephemera Collection
- Additions made to the PCCLD Collection and the Impossible Players Collection

Digitization

Two new collections were added to CONTENTdm: The Joseph Merrill Civil War collection and the Carmen Arteaga film collection. The civil war collections contain letters written by Joseph Merrill, member of the Union Army during the civil war, and the Arteaga collection contains films of Pueblo shot by Carmen Arteaga, a Chicano rights activist.

2022 will mark 60 years since the Arkansas Frying Pan project was signed into law by President JFK. The library's collection of material relating to the project is currently being digitized and will be added to CONTENTdm. So far, 260 pages of this collection have been digitized.

Transcripts generated by volunteer Carolyn Lowrey were also added to three oral histories in CONTENTdm.

6 photographs of the construction of the Arkansas River Levee were requested by a researcher working with the University. These were digitized and delivered.

Victoria Miller at the Steelworks Center, in possession of historical textbooks, needed sections of them digitized for a program. As part of a rush request, Blake digitized sections of these textbooks and processed them, performing color and distortion correction, and created a PDF of each section.

Blake had a virtual meeting with Kristi Roque at Lucero to discuss a community scanning event as part of the Digital Memory Lab, which will allow people to scan photographs within their personal collections using high quality equipment while gaining an introduction to how to properly preserve their personal digital and physical photographs. This event is scheduled for June 3.

Finding Her Voice: Researching Female Ancestors

For Adult Winter Reading and Women's History Month, I invited genealogist and author Gena Philibert - Ortega to provide two presentations live on Facebook and Youtube.

Wednesday, March 9 - Her Name was Not Unknown: Finding Female Ancestors

"What's her maiden name?" "How do I start researching my great-grandmother?" We've all felt the disappointment of seeing the word "unknown" to describe a female ancestor's name. How do we go from "unknown" to finding a name? This presentation will explain techniques, methodology, and resources vital to family history research. Enhance your research skills using a 5-step approach to researching (and finding) female ancestors. Facebook had 97 views and Youtube had 18 views.

Wednesday, March 23 - Researching Women: Community Cookbooks and What They Tell Us About Our Ancestors.

Community cookbooks, commonly known as fundraising cookbooks with the plastic comb binding, have been around since the Civil War. They serve as a "city directory" of women, with everything from names, residences, and in some cases familial relationships and photos. Learn more about community cookbooks and using them for your family history. Presentation includes community cookbooks and food. Facebook had 89 views and Youtube had 9 views.

Kits to Go - Mini Frida Fiesta Kit

March 8th was International Women's Day, a global day celebrating the historical, cultural and political achievements of women. The HRC offered an adult Craft Kit to Go celebrating the Mexican painter Frida Kahlo for the Rawlings Library. They contained color your own bookmarks with quotes from Kahlo, garden pots to decorate with her image and supplies to have their own mini Frida Fiesta. Total kits given out were 32.

Mondays we have Beginning classes at the Pueblo West and Lucero Libraries. Tuesday nights we have an Advanced class at the Barkman Library. Wednesdays we have Intermediate classes at the Giodone and Lamb Libraries.

Total attendance is 81.

Outreach

Chicano Archives Committee

On March 8th, the Chicano Archives Committee met. We discussed oral history projects, a list of Chicano murals in Pueblo and an upcoming dedication ceremony for 3 members we have lost over the last 2 years.

Parent Connects Committee

On March 15th, I met with the Parent Connects Committee. I updated them on our library programs, the English classes and the renovation.

Youth Services

*Welcoming Dolly Parton and the Imagination Library to the Pueblo City County Library District!
Registrations for this amazing program will open on our website on April 1st.*

- We were excited to see participation with in-person programs increase each month! In January we had 35 people attend our programs and this month we had 91!!
- Natalie, our Tween Coordinator, made a Women's Day Kit 2 Go to give away in Youth Services. She also partnered with St. Therese Catholic School and Bella Vista Expeditionary School to provide their students with kits.

Customer Comment: Mercy and Vivianna used to come to tween hangouts every week. They have been best friends since kindergarten. During the pandemic they lost contact with each other due to attending different schools. When teen programs started again they became regular participants. Mercy and Vivianna said that "Teen programs brought us back together and it is like we are best friends again."

Customer Comment: A mom told me that she had picked up the Garden Kit 2 Go for her daughter. They have planted the seed and are waiting to see it grow. She said that her daughter gets up every morning to check on the seed and water the plant.
