- Thingiverse Downloads for June 2019: 203
- Tech bar use: 125
 - June marks Sharon Rice's first SRP month in the Idea Factory. She is pleased that, even though she is not running Fun Friday's programming through the summer, there were still over 200 attendees at Idea Factory programs this month! The Salad in a Jar class and the Cookies and Canvas classes were very popular. Sharon Rice had the Idea Factory Mac cleaned up and reimaged with the help of from IT, as well as adding extra RAM into the Idea Factory laptop. Both machines are now running significantly faster (I.T. removed over 41,000 data saves and fragments from the Mac alone) and should be much more useful to the public. Adobe Creative Suite is functional again. The Mac has been moved into the Idea Factory so people can use it more privately, and the Lulzbot has also been relocated. Sharon Rice is in the process of setting up stations inside the Idea Factory so that open studio time will be available for the public to come in and use dremel tools, sewing machines, the vinyl cutter, the Lulzbot 3D printer, and the Mac.

Youth Services

"Cool" takes on a whole new meaning at Lucero's Ice Cream Science program.

YS-Sponsored Program Attendance - year over year:

- June 2018 - 3,042
- June 2019 - 2,536
 - 17% decrease

Gains and Losses:

- Attendance at YS-sponsored kickoff parties at the branches increased while family program attendance decreased overall. The largest decrease was at Rawlings - probably due to our date change.

YS-In-House Program Attendance - year over year (includes BIP attendance):

- June 2018 - 9,015
- June 2019 - 6,176
 - 31% decrease

Gains and Losses:

- Much of this decrease comes from IDEA Con and Summer Fest - these events were held in June 2018, but in May this year.

Reach for the Stars with Mr. E and Kyle.

YS-Funded Kickoff Programming

- After the success of centrally-sponsored kickoff parties last year, we funded them again this year. Attendance has increased healthily - even without counting Giodone's kickoff last month.
 - Greenhorn Valley – 165
 - Pueblo West – 239
 - Barkman – 218
 - Lamb – 104
 - Attendance: 726

The Pueblo West Kickoff featured an indoor planetarium!

- The "Track" system has been liberalized a bit this year, as I tried to fit presenters and performers to dates and locations that worked best, without rigidly assigning certain types of performers to certain locations. We still ended up with three major categories:
 - Out of This World Performers
 - Mr. E and Kyle, the Salida Circus, the Percussion Lady and Cody Landstrom.
 - ❖ Attendance: 723
 - Hand-On Science and Art
 - Cool Science, Science Matters and We Are FARMily.
 - ❖ Attendance: 323
 - Drop-In Activities
 - These were used at Giodone and Greenhorn, and include balloon rockets, solar system scratch art, DIY constellations and star wheels.
 - ❖ Attendance: 104
- After last year's attendance drop at Rawlings, I experimented with moving the family program to Saturday. So far, this has not been working out as I hoped, but I still consider it worth trying. YS staff have been trying hands-on crafts and activities for tweens and families on Fridays with great success, including a messy mud story time.
 - Total Family Attendance: 1,875
 - Family Attendance 2018: 2,246
 - ❖ 17% decrease

Piglet Power at Giodone.

Teen and Tween

- Magic Workshop
 - Mr. E and Kyle visited Lamb and Pueblo West this month with a special workshop for tweens.
 - Attendance: 39

Weekly Tween Programs

- These programs at Barkman, Lamb, Pueblo West, Lucero and Rawlings were supported by centrally-developed program kits and NASA program resources. Programs included galaxy crafts, a Rice Krispy challenge, jewelry making and rockets.
 - Attendance: 217

Teen Mini Magnet Terrariums at Barkman.

Weekly Teen Programs

- Weekly YS-sponsored teen hangouts occurred at Rawlings, Barkman, Lamb and Lucero with programs like magnet terrariums, and a mini mars rover. Pueblo West's teen hangouts were not supported by YS, and used branch materials exclusively.
 - Attendance: 129

Tween/Teen Camps

- After the success of teen and tween camps last year, I sought out more of them this year, themed around science and space. These camps were well-received by youth and parents.
 - Giodone - Robo Quest - Attendees built and tested many kinds of robots.
 - Giodone - May the Force of Static Electricity Be With You
 - Giodone - Fly Me to the Moon - Participants got to relive the moon landing and use period technology.
 - Pueblo West - Fizz, Bang, and Boom - Participants experimented with chemistry.
 - Attendance: 94

Tween/Teen Special Events and Parties

- Once again, YS sponsored special events for tweens and teens with special kits.
 - Pueblo West - Laser Tag – 13

- Greenhorn Valley - Galaxy Slime – 37
- Greenhorn Valley - Laser Tag – 24
- Giodone - Galaxy Slime – 10
- Giodone - Out of This World Party – 13
 - Attendance: 97

Tween/Teen Passive Programs

- Brooke Riedeman constructed a teen/tween passive program kit including games, scratch art, and other easy activities for branches to pull out as needed. These kits went to Giodone, Greenhorn, Lamb and Lucero.
 - Attendance: 84
- Tween/Teen Attendance: 660
- Tween/Teen Attendance 2018: 796
 - 17% decrease
- Total Centralized: 2,536
- Centralized attendance 2018: 3,042
 - 17% decrease

Rawlings Events

Some family fun in the courtyard.

Summer Reading Kickoff

- After last year's incredible kickoff, YS, Community Relations, RRA and Special Collections teamed up again for a fantastic event including a bounce house, visiting farm animals, rock painting, origami and more!
 - Attendance: 1,645

Summer Lunch at the Library

- This is the third year of our partnership with D60 to provide free lunch for kids.
 - Attendance: 693

Rawlings tweens show off their galaxy crafts.

- Baby Storytime – 45
- Toddler Storytime – 124
- Family Storytime - 68
- Storytime @ the Y – 154
- Summer Zoo Storytime – 83
- Storytime at the Mall – 12
- Read Dogs – 72
- Head Start – 79
 - Total Storytime: 637
- Total Non-Centralized: 3,162
- Non-Centralized 2018: 4,379
 - 28% decrease

Visits, Outreach and Tours

BIP staffer Brynda Acker reads to children at Fairmount Park.

Books in the Park

- Visits at Books in the Park are at a three-year high despite decreases in circulation, snacks and lunch - a strong signal of how beloved this program is.
- This year, YS has been experimenting with a third “mini” location at St. Anne’s Park. Despite enthusiastic collaboration from our partners, attendance at this location is very low. I will continue the program through the end of BIP to see if there is any gain as the summer progresses, or if the program should be discontinued or moved in 2020.

Circulation

- 2,700
 - (Circulation June 2018 - 3,183 - 15% decrease)

Visits/Attendance

Thank You Messages

- "I had the pleasure of visiting the Lucero Library today (6/24/19). I have to pass on a comment another patron said and I agreed with. She said, it is so nice to see so many young kids in the library instead of on the streets. This branch is amazing in the amount of kids that are at the library and the calm atmosphere in here is also amazing. Diann Logie has always been gracious and kind in our encounters. She has such an uplifting spirit and her outreach in the community is to be commended. Her work ethic reflects at this library and shows in her passion to service the patrons." Always grateful - Theresa Kosak
- To Jon Walker. "Thank you for presenting valuable information about the Pueblo County Library system. We as a community are grateful for all of the services provided by the library system." - The Pillars of Unity

Respectfully submitted,
Jon Walker
