Staff Development Day

PCCLD staff gathered together at the Rawlings Library on Monday, February 2019, for its biannual staff development day. All libraries were closed to the public for Presidents Day but library employees worked together in training sessions to improve skills. Sessions included employee recognitions as well as topics about PCCLD's future, library advocacy, Koha, safety and security training, new employee orientation, merchandising, community engagement, and public speaking.

Read Out Loud

The 10th annual Read Out Loud program occurred on February 20-21. Author Debbie Dadey, who has authored 166 books that have sold 43 million copies, was featured along with her work Vampires Don't Wear Polka Dots the first volume in the popular Bailey School Kids series. 23 Pueblo-area schools with 3,517 participating. Ms. Dadey presented six programs for the students over two days. The project is coordinated by Maria Kramer, Youth Services Managing Librarian.

Koha

PCCLD implemented a new online library system in mid-December 2018. This transition was carefully planned over a number of months leading up to the "go live" date of December 17 2018, including intensive staff training sessions. Since then, the work of ensuring the services of the library continue to work well has been ongoing. The core staff team who led the transition for PCCLD gathered to celebrate with a special luncheon on March 15. These individuals include Jill Kleven, Daniel Gaghan, Lori Kozel, Deanna Herrera, Jan Reed, Regina Renee Ward, Cynthia Nicola, Chris Sturdy, and Peggy Bilger.

Those metrics no longer accurately represent the amount of customers who actively engage in using the tech bar computers and software, so a new method of counting use is currently being developed, along with a better Idea Factory layout to promote use of the computers and software.

Youth Services

~YS-Sponsored Program Attendance - year over year

- February 2018 812
- February 2019 1,099
 - o 35% increase

~Gains and Losses

- Our biggest gains came from centralized tween and teen kits, followed by attendance at our children's program, the Lego Party. The Lego Party is a new program, taking the place of our centralized Dr. Seuss event.
- The increase to Tween and Teen kit attendance is particularly encouraging. There were 21 kit requests this month from 7 locations, compared with 11 requests from only 4 locations in February of last year. Kits are also being used to support Fun Friday programming at the branches very efficient in terms of both cost and staff time!

~YS-In-House Program Attendance - year over year

- February 2018 1,870
- February 2019 3,295
 - 76% increase

~Gains and Losses

• The biggest reason for this massive increase in attendance was the shift in the date of Read Out Loud. Last year, Read Out Loud took place in April.

~Centralized Programming

Children's

Lego construction underway at Giodone.

- Lego Character Party to celebrate the release of the second Lego Movie and our own abiding love of Lego Kirsten Dees and the YSC designed the Lego Character Party, which included games, crafts, and of course, Lego construction.

GREENHORN VALLEY LIBRARY

~Youth & Family Programming

- Greenhorn Valley Library had a total of 145 children, tweens and teens participate in programs and community outreach during the month. The best attended youth program this month was Tween Perler Beads. Katherine decided to take advantage of the supplies and organized a Pop-up program the next day. As we continue to brainstorm ideas to provide programs that fit the community's needs, Pop-Up programs may become a regular part of GHV branch monthly offerings. Youth Friday programs will be expended due to a Friend's Grant that was approved this month. Working on purchasing supplies with these funds to support Family Friday Programs. We are working on Summer Reading programs and events.

∼Adult Programs

- Greenhorn Valley Library had 198 adult program participants in February. The most popular adult programs this month were History Night and Felted Dog. History night hosted Gregory Howell who talked about the steel and meat industries in Colorado. The GHV Book Club met for the second time and with the help of Tech Services we were able to provide copies of books for next month's discussion. This is a critical service as many participants (the group averages 15 patrons) struggled with checking out February's book Of Mice and Men because the district had only one copy. Adult programs were also awarded a Friend's Grant, which will support our professionally taught DIY programs like soap making, hydroponics, and felted projects.

USER SERVICES

- Jill Kleven met with the Library Directors at Pueblo Community College and Colorado State University-Pueblo to see how the satellite libraries were working. Rhonda Gonzales at CSU-P reported that usage is high and they'd like to see blurays and less copies of fiction. Chris McGrath at PCC reported the same findings. Collection Development will fill those requests as well as providing a small popular nonfiction collection at each location.
- Jill gave a presentation on Hoopla to the Board of Directors at the February 28th meeting. She discussed the success of Hoopla as well as some strategies to improve electronic resource usage.

~Collection Development

- Theia Bravo, Rich Poll, and Elizabeth Flores all met with their individual branches as collection development liaisons. They discussed strategies to maximize circulations based on collection development. They will be visiting their specific location on a bimonthly basis.
- Elizabeth began ordering video game collections/systems for programming purposes. She has ordered collections for Giodone, Pueblo West, and Greenhorn.
- Jeff Clark from Midwest Tape met with Theia, Elizabeth and Jill to discuss Hoopla usage as well as promotional materials.
 Acquisitions
 - Peggy Bilger is still working on getting Ingram up and running with Koha. In the meantime we are ordering a lot of patron requests through Amazon.

~ILS

- Daniel Gaghan continues to work on a few outstanding issues with Koha.
- Talking Tech was enabled at the beginning of February so customers are receiving phone notifications.
- Daniel was a winner of the 2018 4th Quarter WIZ award for his participation in the Koha migration.

~Circulation

- Jan Reed and Cynthia Nicola presented Koha Circulation training at Staff Day at two separate sessions.
- Regina Renee Ward and Jan were both recipients of the 2018 4th Quarter WIZ awards for their participation in the Koha migration.

THANK YOU MESSAGES

- Email from Giodone Library user, Carol Elkins.
 - o "As a user of the Giodone Library branch, I would be devastated to lose what has become a hub of community activity. It isn't just access to books-most of my books are digital and don't require a trip to the library. It is the events that occur at the library that have become so important to me and to my community. I have given several presentations at Giodone and have partaken in several dozen more. It is one of the most effective ways I know of to share knowledge. As a senior citizen, Giodone programs are often the highlight of my month. Giodone Library's activities for children are equally important to our community youth.
- From comment form, Theresa Kosak, Lamb Library user.
 - o "Diann and her staff open their hearts and facility to provide the food distribution for the needy. I attend library events here and the entire staff are so welcoming to all. This branch truly meets the needs of the community.
- Email from Barkman Library user, Anna Gray.
 - "Kudos to Alicia at Barkman for her new magazine recycling project! I have found inspiration (Yoga magazine) mandatory reading (The Economist) and something I would never otherwise have found (Recycling Trade magazine), none of which have I time to read or subscribe to. More important, though, are the recipe magazines that I recycle again to the tenants of my large apartment building: young people learning to cook for themselves, young married couples working out their own traditions, people with children, older couples who have time to experiment with new things, and still older people living alone with no one to suggest something new. This new project adds much to all of our lives. Thank you Pueblo Library District!
