GOVERNMENT CONCLUDES CASE IN CATTLE TRIAL

Carson City, Nev., March 9.—The government concluded its case today in the trial of the Golconda cattle company, accused of having fenced illegally 27,000 acres of range land. The defense introduced tsetimony tending to show that the fencing did not interfere with the use of the public domain. It was said the opening of fences allowed herds to pass freely to and from the fenced enclosure. A plat was introduced to show that no barriers had existed at the places which government witnesses declared had been enclosed.

RECITAL HALL OPEN AT MUSICAL COLLEGE

A beautiful recital hall has just been added to the Killin-Keough college of music, and it was opened to the public yesterday for a recital given by pupils of Miss Annie Pool and Mrs. F. G. Mirick, in piano, and of Mahlon M. Saxton, in violin. Miss Pool presented Mary Tingley, Margaret Bullen, Reginald Kay, Louise Campbell, Frances Anderson, Eleanor Kennerley, Helen Marsh and Elizabeth Collins. Mrs. Mirick's pupils were Karl Walter, Marian Nuckolls, Elizabeth Baker and Mercy Middlekamp and of Mr. Saxton, John Cassidy, Miss Marie Bear, Merle Gray, George Anderson and Cecil Robinson. The accompaniments to the violin solos were played by Misses Irene Bear, Gladys Collins, Helen Geiger and Frances Anderson.

A large attendance of guests, parents and friends of the pupils, listened with much interest to the program. One of the predominating features in the work of all the participants was an appreciation of the art of music, and Mr. and Mrs. Killin-Keough in securing a place where the students may express their artistic talents are endeavoring to give them the best educational advantages.

Steps are being taken for the formation of a federation of all employes of electrical workers for corporations in the territory of California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and British Columbia.
