MURDER ON THE HUERFANO.

Respected Citizen of Pueblo County Shot Dead by his Nephew.

On Sunday morning last the town was startled by a report that Mr. Isaac Bullock had been murdered at his ranch on the Huerfano. Enquiry proved the report to be true. A messenger had come over in haste to call the coroner to the scene. The history of the quarrel, out of which it is supposed the killing grew, is as follows: Mr. Bullock and his relations the Pattersons lived on adjoining ranches on the lower part of the Huerfano. For a long time there had been ill blood between the two families in consequence of a dispute over a piece of land. On the morning of the day (May 7th,) of the murder, some horses belonging to the Pattersons had gone on to this land, which Mr. Bullock had sown with some kind of grain. Accompanied by his brother in-law, George Overturf, Mr. Bullock went to drive the horses off the crop. While doing this Norman Patterson rode up and demanded to know what they were doing with the horses, and after a few words fired his pistol at Mr. Bullock, exclaiming "you are a liar!" or some such words. The shot took effect in the neck, and after walking a few paces, Mr. Bullock fell. The jugular vein was severed and almost immediately life was extinct. Mr. Overturf walked a few paces, to a point from which he could call assistance from Bullock's house, and while he was doing so, Norman Patterson rode away to his own home. When the officers arrived on the scene from Pueblo, it was found that Norman and his elder brother Jerry had left home, and although the alarm had been given throughout the neighborhood, and before the arrival of the officers parties had gone out, among them one of the soldiers from Fort Reynolds, in order to arrest them, they got away and no trace of them could be found.

Isaac Bullock is spoken of as being quiet and inoffensive to a remarkable degree. His character as a citizen stood very high with the people of this county, and he was the least likely man to lose his life in the way he did. He leaves a wife and, we believe, three children to mourn his terrible fate. Norman Patterson is only about eighteen or nineteen years of age.

FORT REYNOLDS CONSPIRATORS.—The verdict of the court martial which tried sergeant William Dow and private John Conway, company "D," Fifth Infantry, for forming a conspiracy to rob the Quartermaster's safe at Fort Reynolds, and, if necessary for their purpose, to kill the officers in charge, has been promulgated. On all the charges preferred against them the prisoners were found guilty, and the sentences confirmed at the headquarters at Leavenworth. Dow is to be dishonorably discharged the service, to lose all pay and allowances, and to be sent to hard labor at a military pris-

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

$100,000 Railroad Bonds Recommended New Court House.

The Board met in special session on Tuesday, May 9th, 1871. Present—Chairman O. H. P. Baxter, B. B. Field, and Mark L. Blunt. John D. Miller, Clerk.

The chief among the business before the Board was the subject of bonds in aid of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad.

A petition, signed by over one hundred citizens of Pueblo county, praying that a special election be ordered for the purpose of submitting the railroad bond question to the people was received and filed.

After a thorough discussion of the matter, an election was ordered to take place on Tuesday, June 20th, 1871.

The main features of the conditions as at present proposed and to be voted upon, are: The bonds to amount to $100,000, and not to bear interest for three years, the depot to be within one mile of Court House Square; one-half the bonds to be paid on the completion of the grading to Pueblo, and the other half when the line is in running order from Denver to Pueblo.

Plans and specifications of a new court house for Pueblo county were laid before the Board, the one by Mr. [illegible] being adopted. Ac-
