J. B. COX.

On Christmas eve, the spirit of J. B. Cox, familiarly known as "Fin," took its flight and today both his immediate family and Clay and Scott Chilcott are especially mourning his demise. Twelve years ago Christmas eve, his only sister, Mrs. G. M. Chilcott, died and necessarily this calls to the memory of her sons, the loss of their mother and causes them to feel more keenly the loss of their uncle. The deceased was born in Morgan county, Ill., 60 years ago. He came to Colorado in 1866 and has resided continuously in this county and state since. He leaves a wife, three sons and one daughter to mourn his demise. Politically "Fin" had always been a staunch democrat and was at one time county assessor of Pueblo county, filling this responsible office with great credit to himself and later was elected to the Legislature, acquitting himself with honors, introducing several important bills. "Fin" Cox was generous to a fault and his friends were legion in every walk of life. He was known, honored and loved. Today and in years to come many will miss and mourn his death. His brother in law, Will Harrington, will be present to attend the funeral, coming from Tekamah, Neb.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow from his home on the St. Charles.
