"GIRLS" AT GRAND TO

The Messrs. Shubert's production of Clyde Fitch's greatest comedy, "Girls," will be the attraction at the Grand Friday. "Girls" is a play of the bright and breezy order which handles the question of independent women so cleverly and in such an amusing vein that it is unquestionably the one big comedy hit of recent years. It was to be supposed that anything from the bachelor girls who have swo mighty oath on an impressive that never, so long as they live, they permit themselves to be depe upon man. With this resolution fixed in their minds, but unfortun not so firmly fixed in their hearts, start out to do battle with the No man is ever seen in their com and no man's shadow ever casts it houette on their curtains. But the
