WELL KNOWN HERE.

Major Elderkin, Who Lived in Pueblo Years Ago, is Dead.

Colonel W. A. Elderkin, well and favorably known to Pueblo people, having been a resident of Pueblo 25 years ago, died on January 1 at Middletown, N. Y. He was familiarly known to all old timers as "Major," and was in charge of the United States commissary department here, afterward being transferred to Los Angeles. Besides being an army officer, he was a member of the Society of Colonial Wars and Sons of the Revolution. Mrs. Elderkin and three daughters survive him, to whom the deepest sympathy of many friends here will be extended in their sad affliction.
