Former Puebloan Rasses Away

The remains of P. Looney, were brought from Colorado Springs to the chapel of the Davis & Yoris mortuary last night accompanied by J. G. Looney, a son, and Mrs. L. H. Hancock and Mrs. Lincoln Eve, two married daughters.

The deceased died yesterday in St. Francis hospital in Colorado Springs. He was 61 years of age and had resided in Pueblo since 1883. He was very well known and for years had been connected with the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. The arrangements for the funeral, will eb announced later.