TREET

"The Drunkard Can't Save Himself. You Women have to do it for Him."

send free by mail, in plain wrapper, so that no one can know what it contains, a trial package of Golden Specific for the Liquor Habit. Though absolutely harmless, it never fails to cure the worst cases of drunkenness, no matter of how long standing. It can be administered without the knowledge of the subject in coffee, tea, soup, milk, etc., and he will be cured in a few days and cured so he will never drink again.

Golden Specific contains no dangerous drugs or minerals. It does not ruin the digestion or destroy the tissues of the vital organs and endanger life and health. It counteracts and expels from the system all alcoholic poisons and puts an end to all craving or appetite for liquor.

Under its influence the subject regains his health, will-power and self-respect. His eye becomes bright, his brain clear, his step elastic, his vigor returns, and he once more feels and looks like a man.

This was particularly true with the character of "The Unknown," enacted by Tom Lewis. His audiences beat him to his laughs throughout the entire show. The performances here, by the way, will mark the 544th time that Mr. Lewis has enacted the character of "The Unknown," and his success in it has been so absolute that young Mr. Cohan will start him and his partner, Sam J. Ryan, next year in a comedy he is writing for them.
