2019 NEA Big Read All Pueblo Reads

About the project and the book

NEA Big Read All Pueblo Reads is a literary project designed to get everyone in Pueblo County reading one book at the same time each year. The goals of the project are to promote literacy and encourage dialogue across cultural, generational and social lines.

Julia Alvarez

This year's selection is In the Time of the Butterflies by Julia Alvarez and the children's companion books are Miguel and the Amazing Alebrijes by Roni Capin Rivera-Ashford and Before We Were Free by Julia Alvarez. More than 300 copies of the books are available for checkout at any of our library locations.

Turn to Page 3 to learn more about children companion books.

In the Time of the Butterflies

In the Time of the Butterflies is a historical fiction fictionalized account of the four Mirabal sisters who lived during the dictatorship of Rafael Trujillo in the Dominican Republic.

The sisters make a political commitment to overthrow the Trujillo regime. In doing so, they are harassed, persecuted, and imprisoned, all while their family suffers retaliation from the Military Intelligence Service.

As vengeance for their political activities, Trujillo orders three of the sisters be killed while returning from visiting their husbands in jail.

Whither or wither the library

Jon Walker

By Jon Walker

It has been an honor to have served as the executive director for the Pueblo City-County Library District for 15 years.

The use of our public libraries has increased a lot during my time here. Two pieces of information illustrate the growth. In 2018, there were 1,309,285 visitors to local libraries who checked out 2,341,472 books and other materials. This is a dramatic increase over 2003, when 671,639 library visitors checked out 974,475 items. Pueblo County's population increased from 148,505 residents to 167,529 during the same time period. This means during a time when the local population grew a modest 13 percent, visits to local libraries swelled 94 percent and use of library materials escalated 140 percent. I also know our citizens take pride in having the Best Library in America right here in Pueblo County, a national Four Star Library and the recipient of the National Medal for Museum and Libraries Services.

PCCLD has been working on a challenge for quite some time now. A 0.603 mill levy dedicated to local libraries is scheduled to expire this year. If this happens, then funds available will not be sufficient to pay for the current level of library programs, services, and facilities. The library mill levy tax that is scheduled to expire is a 0.603. A portion of one mill. One mill is one one-hundredth of one penny. The Library Board of Trustees have completed financial analysis showing that reducing this slightly and asking citizens to continue a reduced rate of exactly 0.6 of one mill will allow our local libraries Please see LIBRARY, Page 3 to sustain their successful and effective operations. The cost to homeowners of a levy of 0.6 of one mill is $4.30 for every $100,000 of actual home value. This is slightly less than homeowners have been paying for local libraries.

The challenge has been vetted with local leaders including elected officials and those from business, education and non-profit organizations — and a series of focus groups and presentations about the issue has been conducted at locations throughout our county. A scientific poll of likely Pueblo County voters was commissioned. The overwhelming sentiment in all cases was to ask voters to continue the library mill levy.

With this information in hand the Library Board of Trustees unanimously adopted a resolution to put the renewal of the 0.6 library mill levy on the upcoming ballot. This was followed shortly thereafter by supporting resolutions from both the Pueblo Board of County Commissioners and Pueblo City Council.

So, voters will decide whether or wither the Library on November 5.
