Outstanding Women Awards

Nominations due by Friday, Feb. 12. Nomination forms are available at all library locations and online at pueblolibrary.org/contests. For more information, contact Sara Schwartz at 553-0220 or email sara.schwartz@pueblolibrary.org.

The Pueblo City-County Library District is accepting nominations for the 2016 Outstanding Women Awards. These awards have honored women who have made important contributions to our community and have celebrated the important role that women have played in Pueblo's history.

These awards provide an opportunity for any individual or organization to honor a special woman who has made an impact. The only criteria is that the woman must be a resident of Pueblo County currently or during the time the award honors.

The person does not have to be living to be honored.

Any individual or organization may nominate a woman of their choice. All nominees will be recognized publicly and presented with an "Outstanding Woman of 2016" award.

Each nominee also receives a complimentary ticket valued at $30 to a special event on March 25 featuring New York Times bestselling author Karen Abbott and a copy of her book Liar, Temptress, Soldier, Spy, the Together We Read March 2016 selection in celebration of Women's History Month.

Introducing: Together We Read

Due to the popularity of the All Pueblo Reads community-wide literary program, the library is launching Together We Read, a literary program where we ask all Puebloans to read one book at the same time. The first project takes place in March to celebrate Women's History Month. The selected book is Liar, Temptress, Soldier, Spy by New York Times bestselling author Karen Abbott, who also wrote Gypsy Rose and Sin in the Second City. Abbott will be in Pueblo on March 25 for a VIP reception with presentation, book signing, dessert and champagne bars. There are a limited amount of tickets. The cost is $30 to attend, which includes unlimited dessert and champagne. For tickets, please contact Sara Schwartz at 553-0220.

Reflecting on the year just ended

by Jon Walker

Some say it is good practice at the beginning of a new year to reflect upon what has taken place during the previous months. 2015 certainly marked another notable year for Pueblo City-County Library District, we continue in our efforts to provide the best possible public library service for our community. This is most clearly evident by the increasing number of books and other materials checked out by library users. We checked out around three million items in 2015. This is the most ever in the history of the library district.

People also continued to visit our libraries in record numbers. Approximately 1.8 million people visited PCCLD libraries throughout the county in 2015. This speaks well for us as we seek to ensure that ours is an informed community of readers.

In 2015, the total number of people attending library-sponsored special events was about 260,000. Library events occur year-round, including such signature programs as All Pueblo Reads, Summer Reading Club, Read OUT LOUD!, special adult and children's literacy activities, the Hispanic Resource Center, the InfoZone Museum, local and regional archival collections, genealogy, the Idea Factory makerspace, and much, much more.

2015 also marked the first full year for PCCLD's three new libraries: the Giodone Library east of the City of Pueblo, the Lucero Library in the city's east side neighborhood, and the Greenhorn Valley Library serving the southern portion of the county.

Clearly a lot happened at PCCLD in 2015. This article only touches upon some highlights of the library's many accomplishments, services and programs. Speaking on behalf of the institution, let me simply close by pointing out that it is a pleasure and honor to serve the citizens of Pueblo County.

Winners of the 2015 Creative Writing contest were recognized at a ceremony at Rawlings Library in December. Students were asked to respond to the question: The year is 2075. What does a day in your life look like?

A young boy is all smiles sitting with Santa (Dave DeCenzo) at Barkman Library in December.

In December, the Leadership Pueblo class of 2014 unveiled No Place Like Home, a sculpture for the yellow brick road courtyard directly behind Rawlings Library. An open book, done in mosaic tiles by local artist Anne Scott (pictured), is open to a page reflecting Pueblo's roots and its ever-growing Emerald city.

Creede Repertory Theatre's Young Audience Outreach Tour visited Rawlings Library in November to perform Reading! and other Super Powers/Leyendo! Y Otros Súper Poderes, a bi-lingual play about reading full of music and action.

Snow flurries didn't stop these felted penguins from showing up at the Greenhorn Valley Library in December. The ornament craft was led by ladies from The Felted Dog.

Greenhorn Valley Library celebrated Day of the Dead in November with facepainting and sugar skulls.

A large crowd gathered at Rawlings library in December to learn to make Empanadita's from author and personal chef, Deann Pujol. Empanadita's are a Spanish/Latin American pastry turnover filled with a variety of savory ingredients.

You can lead a horse to ... the library? It's not everyday you see a horse checking out books! This young man (grey shirt) and his trusty steed make regular visits to the Pueblo West Library.

by Doreen Martinez

Happy New Year! Your Friends of the Library Board of Directors, management and staff of Books Again and the staff of Pueblo City-County Library District are gearing up for another exciting year. As of December 2015 membership in the Friends of the Library totaled over 1000 members! Thank you to all of our continuing members and welcome to the many new members who have joined us. The FOL Board of Directors will begin round two of the Project Selection Process this month. During the month of January, Books Again will feature all hardback books written by authors whose last names begin with A or B on sale for $2. The Creative Writing Awards Ceremony held in December was well attended. The next FOL sponsored library contest will be the Dr. Seuss contest. As always, if you are not a current friend of the Pueblo City-County Library District, please consider becoming one. The support FOL is able to provide YOUR library is vital to the success of our community and library!

Exploring Human Origins: What Makes Us Human?

The Pueblo City-County Library District has been selected as one of 17 libraries to host Exploring Human Origins: What Does It Mean to Be Human?, a national traveling exhibition based on the Smithsonian's What Does It Mean to Be Human? permanent exhibition at the National Museum of Natural History.

The traveling exhibition will be on exhibit March 28-April 23, 2016 at the InfoZone News Museum at Rawlings.

A series of educational films and programs dealing with early human ancestors and the theme of what makes us human will take place February through April.

Programs connected to the exhibit will appear in the newsletter with the graphic (shown at left).
