Pueblo Library Awarded Cooperating Collection

By Janet Cox

The Foundation Center, the nation's leading authority on grant makers, recently approved the Pueblo City-County Library District's (PCCLD) application for membership to become a Cooperating Collection.

This is great news as the collection will serve the needs of Pueblo and southeastern Colorado non-profit agencies by providing much needed research materials.

The core collection consists of several print items such as The Guide to Proposal Writing, Foundation Directory, Guide to Grantseeking on the Web, and Guide to Winning Proposals.

Also included is the Foundation Center's electronic database which will be available through a dedicated computer.

In addition to these materials, PCCLD plans to sponsor workshops about the use of the collection.

Beginning with an introductory orientation, training sessions will be scheduled throughout the year.

The Foundation Center was created in 1946 to be a source of "accurate information about U.S. foundations for grantseekers, policymakers, the media, and foundations." Its fundamental purpose is to strengthen the nonprofit sector by advancing knowledge about U.S. philanthropy. This mission is carried out in part through establishing outreach centers to host Cooperating Collections.

These sites are situated throughout the country in libraries, community foundations and nonprofit agencies. They bring invaluable resources to underserved areas.

Pueblo will become the third Cooperating Collection in the State of Colorado. The other two sites are Denver and Colorado Springs.

This was truly a team effort made possible by many participants including library personnel, non-profit staffers, public officials, and community supporters who generously gave time and effort to bring the project to a successful outcome.

The collection is a wonderful asset to the library and the community.

Janet Cox is PCCLD's Adult Services Supervisor and can be reached at 562-5624.

Pueblo is a well-read community. This statement must be true if the ever-increasing use of libraries is an indication.

In 2004, Pueblo City-County Library District customers checked out 1,058,349 books and other materials. This is the first time we have exceeded one million checkouts. This is exciting to see and demonstrates the value our community places on reading and education.

We also set a record for the number of customers who came through library doors. Nearly 875,000 people visited Pueblo City-County Libraries in 2004. This represents a 30% increase over the previous year. It's obvious that libraries in Pueblo County are happening places.

According to the latest U.S. Census data, there are 148,751 people living in Pueblo County. This means that during the year more than seven items were checked out for every man, woman and child living in the county. Picture for a moment everyone you see today with seven books under their arms, all courtesy of your library.

The Library District has lots to offer, and it is obvious that citizens agree. The future is promising, too.

The Barkman Branch reopened in January with a fresh new look and space for more books, magazines, audio books and other materials.

In December, the District got word of receiving a Foundation Center award beginning in 2005 which will help local grant seekers succeed.

Last summer, we experimented when we opened our "Books in the Park" program at Minnequa Park in Bessemer. The community response has been positive, and this year we have been asked to expand this program to Mitchell Park on the east side.

We know that kids who read succeed, so library staff are preparing a plan to keep young people interested in reading all summer with our most exciting reading program ever.

The Internet has become an integral part of today's world. The Library knows this because the number of people using the Internet in libraries is higher than ever. So, you'll see more Internet computers in our libraries in 2005 and more classes to show people how to use computers.

And books will remain key! Last year we spent $865,000 on new books and other materials. For 2005, we plan to buy more with planned expenditures for new materials of $880,000.

Thanks a million, Pueblo! Congratulations on your interest in libraries and reading. It is our privilege and honor to serve you.

Five Wishes: New Choices for Living Wills & Advanced Directives

What is Five Wishes?

Five Wishes is the first living will that talks about your personal, emotional and spiritual needs as well as your medical wishes. It lets you choose the person you want to make health care decisions for you if you are not able to make them for yourself.

Five Wishes lets you say exactly how you wish to be treated if you get seriously ill.

It was written with the help of The American Bar Association's Commission on the Legal Problems of the Elderly, and the nation's leading experts in end-of-life care. It's also easy to use. All you have to do is check a box, circle a direction, or write a few sentences.

Outstanding Women's Award for 2005

The Library is now accepting nominations for the Outstanding Women's Awards. All community groups are welcome to participate.

The purpose of the program is to record and promote the role women have played in Pueblo's history. Toward this goal, the rules for nomination are simple.

The woman must be a resident of Pueblo County currently or during the time the award honors. The person does not have to be living to be honored. Nomination forms are available at all public libraries.

GUIDELINES

1. The woman must be a resident of Pueblo County either now or during the time the award honors.

2. Nominations must be sponsored by a Pueblo organization, club, association, etc.

3. The nominating organization is responsible for preparing a brief biographical sketch of 100-200 words describing the woman's accomplishments. A brief summary will be included on a hand-out to be distributed at the luncheon. If possible, please include a photograph. Past recipients will not receive a second award.

4. A representative of the nominating organization will present the award at a special luncheon on Friday, March 4 at noon. The awards ceremony will be brief so that women who work may attend.

5. The nominating organization will pay $50.00 for the award ($35.00) and the honoree's lunch ($15.00).

6. All nominees will be honored.

Literary Discussion Group

The Known World by Edward P. Jones

February 14, 2005
7:00 p.m.
Barkman Library

In one of the most acclaimed novels in recent memory, two-time National Book Award finalist Edward P. Jones, tells the story of Henry Townsend, a black farmer and former slave who falls under the tutelage of William Robbins, the most powerful man in Manchester County, Virginia.

Making certain he never circumvents the law, Townsend runs his affairs with unusual discipline. But when death takes him unexpectedly, his widow, Caldonia, can't uphold the estate's order, and chaos ensues.

In a daring and ambitious novel, Jones has woven a footnote of history into an epic that takes an unflinching look at slavery in all of its moral complexities.

Book discussions are a casual, open format, with a variety of literature. Book discussions are open to the public and anyone is welcome to attend. For more information please contact Renee Tryon at 296-8018, or Carol Rooney at the Barkman Library at 562-5680.

Homebound Program

The Pueblo City-County Library District (PCCLD) offers a service which brings materials to patrons who are unable to leave their homes. This service, called the Homebound Program, is facilitated through volunteers who deliver the materials directly to the patron's home.

Patrons may call Adult Services at the Robert Hoag Rawlings Public Library and fill out an application to sign up for the program. They may request materials by title or by subject and the materials are delivered within a week. Audio books, talking books, and large print books are a few of the available items.

Patrons using this service receive a special "Homebound" status which allows them to keep materials for four weeks.

This service connects people who are otherwise unable to use the library with the ideas, information and imagination encased within the library walls.

PCCLD values all its patrons, not just the ones who are physically able to access its buildings.

To fill out an application, call 562-5601. To become a volunteer for this program, call 562-5656.

Satellite Spotlight

By Barbara Brown

The Pueblo City-County Library District's Satellite Program is a many faceted jewel. This outreach program features ten unique parts—small collections of books at different locations within Pueblo County.

The Satellite that is perhaps the most unique is at the Pueblo Regent, an assisted living facility.

The coordinator of the site, 95-year-old resident Elizabeth Moore, has volunteered for more than eleven years to keep the small collection of large print books and books on tape in order. She also makes sure materials are checked in and out correctly and “weeds” older copies to make room for newer ones.

A wonderful feature of all Satellite Libraries is that any material from any Pueblo City-County Library may be requested and will be transported to any satellite location specified by the patron. This saves a trip for anyone who's Large-print books line the shelves at the Regent Satellite Library.

Pueblo City-County Library District Volunteer Coordinator Penelope Hyland interviews 95-year-old Elizabeth Moore for an upcoming article in the volunteer newsletter as Satellite Coordinator Barbara Brown looks on.

At the Regent, a patron will notify Moore of desired materials, she calls the Library District's Satellite Coordinator and the items are delivered within a week or so.

There was even a request for books and videos on ballroom dancing, which proves you're never too old to learn something new or how to do something better through resources borrowed from your public library!!

Moore was born on May 13, 1909 and doesn't celebrate birthdays in the traditional way anymore.

She told her 103-year-old friend Julie that her birthdays are “on hold,” to which Julie responded, “How do you do that?”

Moore says she's not going to have any more—that they're “on hold!”

Moore is very lively as you might imagine. When asked how she got started volunteering at the Regent Satellite Library, she said, “Well, my dear, to tell the truth, it was thrust on me!”

The former coordinator was a friend and asked for me to help and showed me how to keep the books in order. In two weeks she was gone so I was left with it and have been doing it ever since!”

Regardless of how she ended up with the job, the Library District is lucky to have Moore as a volunteer.

It does take dedication and effort on Moore's part, but the Regent Satellite Library provides a way for many residents of the assisted living facility to have access to materials they might not otherwise.

Barbara Brown is the Pueblo City-County Library District's Satellite Coordinator.

Brown has worked for the Library District for 15 years.

She can be reached at 562-5631.

Friends of the Library President's Corner

By Jane Milne

"You are able to experience the world from the comfort of your own easy chair when you delve into the pages of a book."
Author unknown.

Edna Shoaf, one of the newer Friend's board members, will become a regular contributor to this page. This month, she invites you to the Children's Area of the Rawlings Library. Won't you join her?

Rose Marie Knight, also one of our newer members, wants you to know about the Magazine Exchange.

Magazine Exchange Program by Rose Marie Knight

The Friends of the Library Board is starting off the New Year by overseeing a project that has been carried on by Mr. Tom Pennington for many years. The Magazine Exchange program will accept certain magazines from donors and distribute them to school classrooms and libraries. Children will also be encouraged to take them home and if it is a non-reading family, the very act of seeing parents thumb through a magazine can set a child on the road to reading.

How Can You Help?

For this project, we need volunteers who can sort, deliver, and interview. If you could volunteer a few hours a week or a month to this worthy project, or for more information, please call: Rose Marie Knight at 547-3214.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Mark your calendars now for the Annual Meeting to be held on April 14, 2005. We hope to have a good turn out to hear Barbara Daubenspeck present A Portrait of Molly Brown. Further information will be available in the next newsletter.

The Poetry Contest Awards Ceremony will be held February 15th at 7:00 p.m. at the Rawlings Library. This contest is sponsored and judged by the Friends of the Library.

The Board Meeting of the Friends of the Library is held each third Thursday of the month at 12:00 noon in the Rawlings Library. This meeting is always open to the public.

The Children's Corner by Edna M. Shoaf

Have you visited the Children's Area of the Rawlings Library? The Friends of the Library contributed $100,000 towards the construction and furnishings of the Story Time Area. So, come on in, sit on the floor in this cozy area, and relax for a bit. Enjoy the lowered ceiling, the plush carpet, the fabric-covered walls and inhale the atmosphere - just perfect for listening to The Cat in the Hat or Where the Wild Things Are.

Then browse through the book shelves and note the fascinating titles. Stand by the tall windows overlooking the reflecting pool in the entry way to the library and listen to the soothing sounds of running water. Marvel at the colorful puppets, or sit in a wee chair just the right size for a small body with short legs.

Your membership dollars and your patronage of the October book sales made all this possible. Pat yourself on the back as you leave this quiet haven to rejoin the hustle and bustle of the "real world." This is one reason why we continue to work so hard as members of The Friends of the Library.
